fighting. Strong British attacks prepared by concentrated artillery fire of the heaviest caliber were launched against our positions forming an angle to the southwest. The enemy, under considerable sacrifices, succeeded in pushing us back from Beaumont-Sur and St. Pierre-Divion, together with the lines adjoining leading into the prepared positions. Our tenacious defense caused us considerable losses. Other places on the front were under attack from the east of Hebutern as far as the south of Grand-Court. Wherever the British had entered they were ejected by the counter-attacks of our infantry. French attacks in the sector of Sully-Sallies. On the east bank of the river Meuse (Verdun region) there was a lively artillery fire in the evening hours. French reconnoitering advances against our Haubertmont line were repulsed.

Physician Hurt When Auto Hits Telegraph Pole

Dr. Robert Moore of Reno Is a Victim of Collision Near Livermore.

Crashing into a telegraph pole with a force that split it for its entire length of thirty feet, in his automobile, Dr. Robert Moore of Reno, Nevada, was seriously injured near Livermore today when his machine swerved off the road after colliding with another automobile. Dr. Moore was dashed against the telegraph pole and suffered two fractured ribs, a crushed leg and other injuries. His wife, who accompanied him, was unhurt.

Dr. and Mrs. Moore had been visiting in Oakland and across the bay and were motoring home on the road leading to Stockton. They had reached Greenville, five miles east of Livermore, when another machine, the owner of which is not known, attempted to cut in, in front of the Moore automobile. The attempt was unsuccessful.

The motorist misjudged the speed of the Moore machine and the rear wheel of his car struck the left front wheel of the Moore car, throwing it off its course into the telegraph pole. Following the accident the unknown motorist who was the cause of it continued on his way towards Stockton without stopping to assist the Moores.

Dr. Moore was conveyed in a passing machine to the emergency hospital in Livermore. His car was badly damaged.

SURVIVAL OF THE PUREST

Sweet Caporal is the only cigarette to survive the test of forty years on the market and remain a national favorite, steadily gaining in popularity. Because in four decades the cigarette industry has been unable to produce a better cigarette. Sweet Caporal is the purest cigarette that can be made—with a pure tobacco flavor that has never been duplicated in any other cigarette at any price.

CIGARETTE PURITY PROVED IN BLACK AND WHITE

Smokers who watch the interesting Sweet Caporal demonstration are shown something different. The demonstrators burn some ordinary paper for them, which leaves a black ash. Then burn Caporal, paper—the purest and some of the high-grade, imported French cigarette paper.

IN EVERY CIVILIZED COUNTRY—"SWEETS"

Sweet Caporal cigarettes are smoked in every civilized country on the globe. The world-wide demand for Sweet Caporal grows without advertising of any kind—a remarkable record of this famous original cigarette. Americans love for their love for "Sweets" to attention.

Governor Helwig-Larsen Sees Disappointment for Danish West Indies.

SAN JUAN, P. R., Nov. 14.—The announcement that Governor Helwig-Larsen, for four years chief executive of the Danish West Indies, had refused to be interviewed in New York on the subject of the sale of those islands to the United States, caused some surprise here, as he talked freely while in San Juan awaiting his sailing for the United States. Among other things, he said:

"With the friendliest feeling toward the United States and without any desire to offend or criticize, and assuming that the Danish islands are sold to the United States, I do not believe the inhabitants of those islands would be any happier under American rule than they are at present."

ANXIOUS FOR CHANGE. "The islanders, as you must know, are almost entirely negroes and, while they are anxious for the sale, they are anxious and restless for any change, without appreciating just what such a change would mean. I believe they would be greatly disappointed."

Governor Helwig-Larsen added that some time ago he had a talk with Theodore Roosevelt about how the negro vote in the Southern States was handled, and he learned from the Governor that it was restricted, locally or otherwise.

LABORERS WERE CONTENTED. The Governor said further that until D. Hamer, a Jackson, commenced labor agitation among them several months ago the laborers of the Danish islands were contented and well satisfied and were contented, and received better wages than the laborers in the British islands. The Governor attributed the disturbances and evidence of discontent during the past few months to the fact that the laborers were being poorly advised.

Governor Helwig-Larsen denied that his resignation and departure from St. Thomas had anything to do with the possible sale of the islands to the United States, and said that his return to Denmark at this time is in no way significant. He said it was probable that on his return to Copenhagen he would be consulted by a joint committee of the Danish Diet, which is studying the question of disposing of the islands.

Court Test Too Much for Seers

Nine Prophets Depart, One Asks Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Squinting at the astral predicting future events, steam-winding a horoscope, and otherwise acting like an astrologer or fortune teller, is a good business, provided a police judge does not run the acid test on the situation. When Byron Kingston and nine women, all alleged future readers, appeared before Police Judge Maurice Oppenheim today, following a raid, the court tried out their ability as conjurators.

"If you can tell me what I am going to do to you, I will let you go," he said. Came a sound of creaking brains, fluorescent emanations from the aura, and other indices of deep thought. The crude atmosphere of the police court, however, was too unesthetic for "spirits," "controls" and "equipment," and it discouraged immeasurably the seers, whose function it was to poke a blowy head through a curtain and provide an alibi. Nobody spoke up and told the judge what was going to happen. So the judge told them himself.

"You will either get out of the business or leave town," he said.

The nine women agreed. A militant spirit, however, prodded Kingston with his elbow and he rose and demanded a jury trial and other judicial luxuries. So the court set next Thursday for his volplane from the astral to the legal.

Public Square Scene of Strange Wedding

SOMERSET, Ky., Nov. 14.—The nuptials of William Cook and Dora Alice Anderson were celebrated the other afternoon on Fountain Square.

For a time there was some hitch in the preliminaries, and pending their arrangement a large crowd assembled near the court house.

The couple, on account of their humorous appearance and attached to the romance, were a big drawing card. After the necessary papers had been issued by Clerk Langdon, the contracting parties appeared on the square accompanied by Jaffer Singleton.

Interested friends had secured the presence of the Rev. Peter Dykes, a minister of a Baptist church, and after the couple had arranged themselves in a conspicuous place on the fountain wall, he proceeded to place on their union the approval of the Scriptures.

Friends of the couple were so insistent in extending congratulations that a riot was almost precipitated. Substantial presents were showered upon the happy pair, and among them was a sack of flour, a pound of coffee and a big onion.

Father and Son Ride on Back of Fish

WICHITA, Kansas, Nov. 14.—C. A. Whitney and his 16-year-old son rode around on the back of a forty-two-pound catfish for half an hour in the Chickasha river near Drury the other day. They finally landed the fish and brought it to Wichita.

Whitney and his son have been camping for the last month. Neighbors told them of several times seeing a monster fish in the river. Whitney, wading into the river, felt around until he located the fish.

He got one hand in the catfish's gills and jumped on its back. The fish darted forward and whipped around in the water until it was about to throw its rider off. Whitney's son rushed to his father's aid and climbed on top of the latter's back to weigh down the catfish. For half an hour the two men rode the fish around, struggling to get it to the bank. They finally succeeded.

Escapes From Finland in Small Open Boat

HANCOCK, Mich., Nov. 14.—Charles Toivonen has arrived in Hancock from Finland, after two attempts to escape service in the Russian army. Toivonen crossed the Gulf of Bothnia, seven miles, in a small boat, to Sweden, where a ticket to this country, forwarded by friends, awaited him. Being a sturdy, experienced oarsman, he crossed the gulf in three days.

Last winter, on his first attempt to escape on skis across the gulf with several other men, Toivonen was caught by a Russian patrol and returned to Finland. Early this summer he hid a small boat and awaited a favorable opportunity. Then, with food for several days, he started out one night.

Toivonen says many of his countrymen will come to America after the war.

Minnesota Pays Honor to Civil War Heroes

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 14.—Minnesota has recently erected monuments in the National Cemetery at Little Rock, Ark., Memphis, Tenn., and Andersonville, Ga., to the memory of Minnesota volunteers who lost their lives in the Civil War and were buried in these cemeteries. There are 123 buried in Little Rock, 129 in Memphis and 95 in Andersonville. Each monument consists of a bronze statue of a private soldier of heroic size, fixed upon a massive granite pedestal. The three monuments were dedicated within two weeks. The monuments were contracted for after the Minnesota legislature had appointed a commission for that purpose.

Hen Lives 22 Days Minus Food or Water

INDIANA, Pa., Nov. 11.—Twenty-two days without food or water and still living, is the remarkable record of the Plymouth Rock hen at Gettysville. Some one put a hen in the back of J. H. The fowl, reduced to a skeleton, is recovering rapidly.

VILLAGES UNDER GROUND ARE HELD

Germans Occupy Queer Subterranean Fortress Along French Canal.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES ON THE SOMME, Nov. 14.—While the warfare which has been adopted by the Germans as their latest style of defensive tactics is being greatly facilitated at the northern extremity of the Franco-British offensive by the existence of caves dug by the Huguenots, it is being even more facilitated at the northern extremity of the "big push" by the existence of entire underground villages.

The caves, cellars and vaults, dug by the Huguenots in the province of Somme, both for refuge and for concealing their valuables, date back to the religious wars which were waged in France several centuries ago. The subterranean villages in the northern part of Picardy are of a more antique origin and go back to feudal times.

As a rule, they are dug into solid rock, and the French general staff has reason to believe that their existence was not only long ago known to Germans, but long ago counted upon by the German general staff as a definite means for clinging onto the soil of France.

PICARDY BURROWS.

There is now every reason to believe that the series of underground villages in Picardy is to be utilized largely by the Germans in constituting a new line of defense against the Franco-British drive that has now pushed them entirely out of their three-line trench defenses which they had regarded as absolutely unbreakable.

By a combination of circumstances, the immense navigable canal which was being dug in the northern part of France when the war began, and which was to have been one of France's greatest inland waterways, skirts the district of underground villages on the west and constitutes an additional asset to the Germans for their new line of defense. This canal, starting from Peronne, where it was to connect up with the Somme Canal already in existence, traverses the northern half of the pathway of the allies' offensive, cutting the Bapaume-Cambrai road near Hovrincourt.

At the moment war was declared this canal was practically completed and ready to have the water turned in. At the foot of Mount Saint Quentin, the French have already reached the banks of this canal, and it has been ascertained that the Germans are utilizing the high ditch for their new line of defenses. This does not constitute a serious fact for the French general staff, as it is, of course, in possession of all the details of the canal's construction. What it does regret, however, is that its occupation by the Germans will unquestionably force its complete destruction by the allies' heavy artillery and the years of time and millions of francs spent in its construction will be entirely wiped out.

VILLAGES NEAR CANAL.

Along the line of this canal are also to be found the underground villages of feudal times which it is now known are being organized by the Germans with machine guns for a final resistance. One of the most famous of these subterranean villages is at Hermes, on the banks of the canal. The village is dug in the solid rock, and consists of 115 chambers with about 800 alcoves. The entrance to this village is under the tower of the church and its fortification by the Germans will of course entail the destruction of the entire church edifice by the allied artillery. Other similar underground villages are to be found in the valley of the Escaut, traversed also by the canal, and at Tiers. Getting the Germans out of these subterranean villages is not considered a serious problem by the French general staff.

Tennessee Teacher Weds Young Teacher

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 14.—He is 25 years and she is 22. They are married, and they are happy. Two years ago, when she was twenty, Miss Sadie Patrick of Arlington, Tenn., came to Memphis and secured a position in the public schools. She had one pupil to whom she became greatly attached. He was James L. Yarbrough, at that time 14 years old.

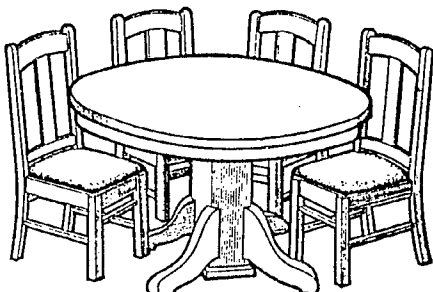

This fall James was in the fifth grade. Miss Patrick again was his teacher. School ran along smoothly for a month. Then the principal noted a marriage license had been issued to James L. Yarbrough and Miss Sadie Patrick.

He questioned teacher and pupil. They admitted they had been married. The school can do no more than permit married women to teach, so Mr. and Mrs. Yarbrough are making their home with the elder Mr. and Mrs. Yarbrough.

WILSON GAIN TOTALS 190 IN CANVASS

Twelve of 58 Counties Have Completed the Official Count; Gains on Both Sides Slight Over the Unofficial Returns

High and Low Electors Show Marked Difference in Many Counties; More Than Week to Finish Task, Is Believed

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—With the official canvass of the vote cast in the recent presidential election proceeding rapidly in all parts of the state, President Wilson has a net gain of 190 votes so far. Twelve of the fifty-eight counties of the state had completed the official count early today. In four of these, Charles E. Hughes showed small gains, aggregating 101 over the unofficial figures. In the other eight, Wilson showed gains aggregating 291, giving a net gain of 190.

The difference between the high and low electors in some counties, in Marin county, for example, the high Democratic elector, Henry, received 3791 votes, while the low elector, Tyler, received only 3760.

Secretary of State Jordan at Sacramento believes that most of the counties of the state will complete their official count by tomorrow night, but that it will require a week or ten days for the big counties to finish. In San Francisco, Los Angeles and Alameda counties the work is proceeding slowly and every vote is being closely scrutinized by both Republican and Democratic watchers. In San Francisco county when the count was resumed today Wilson had made a net gain of six votes. Very few discrepancies had been found. In Los Angeles county the errors were numerous, fifty having been found in small.

Missing Man Sought; Bad Checks, Charge

J. A. Johnson, under arrest in San Francisco after the police had only on charges of floating more than $3000 worth of fictitious checks, is wanted by the Alameda county authorities. J. D. Compton, assistant probation officer, today asked the San Francisco police to have Johnson in court here next Tuesday, to show cause why he should not be sent to prison for violating his probation.

According to Compton, Johnson was placed on probation in this county in 1912 for uttering a fictitious check. He disappeared a year ago, and since that time is said to have visited every large city on the coast and cashed relatives of Johnson are seeking to have him taken before a lunacy commission for examination as to his sanity.

Police Trap Man Suspected of Hold-ups

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Gustaf Toplin, 19, believed by the police to be the last of the quick and dirty hold-up men operating in the Park Boulevard, was arrested in his room, 1545 Steiner street today, by Detectives Gallatin and Houlahan.

Although protesting his innocence, the police allege he was detected in the act of passing a watch, later identified as the property of Clarence McKee, 1338 McAllister street, which was taken from him in a holdup on October 19. The detectives who took Toplin into custody today have been successful in running down the rest of the jittery band.

Divorce Granted on Insanity Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—When Henry Gerlan today received a divorce from his wife Ida, confined in an insane asylum at Napa, Peter Hansen was his attorney. It was developed that Hansen's wife was in Napa, and he had been divorced from her with Gerlan as witness. Also that Gerlan had met his wife in Mrs. Hansen's home. Both women later were adjudged insane. Mrs. Gerlan was committed in January of this year.

ONE ELECTION BOARD IS CITED BY DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Beginning the canvass of Alameda county's presidential vote. Seated, from left to right, are the tally clerks, Joseph Wagner, H. R. Elder and J. T. Delaney. At the extreme left in the background is a Deputy United States Marshal. Behind the tallymen is Jacob Diamond, deputy county clerk, surrounded by Chancery Carpenter and Supervisors J. M. Kelley and J. P. Mullins. Clerk of the Board J. C. Holland is cutting the returns, and Charles Wade Snook, attorney for the Republican County Central Committee, and Attorney J. J. McDonald, for the Democrats, are watching him.

Wilson Shows Small Gain, but Hughes Leads in Canvass

In 107 precincts counted in the official canvass by the supervisors of the vote cast in Alameda county last Tuesday President Wilson had today made a net gain of six votes over the figures given out in the unofficial returns. Very few changes and irregularities are being found in the canvass, which discloses with more than one-fourth of all the precincts in the county counted that the presidential vote morning and evening was in the hands of the Republican and Democratic tickets are running well up to each other.

The six election officers in Precinct 77 at Hudson street and Lawton avenue have been cited to appear before the supervisors at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and explain the manner in which they made their tallies on the night of the election. The citations were issued by Deputy District Attorney T. P. Wittichen and are directed against Mayor Herman, Edmund H. Spring, Minnie W. Maxwell, William J. Osterloh, Florence J. Bressler and Frederick Hilgins.

There is no suspicion of wrongdoing in this case, Wittichen explained today. "The election officials, in making their tallies, did not do so in accordance to the election laws. In the tally book they failed to make a mark for each of the votes cast for each candidate. Their totals are no doubt correct, but the supervisors are not allowed by law to guess at this, so I have cited the officers to come in and do their work properly."

The count is proceeding rapidly and will probably be completed long before the week or ten days that was first estimated as the probable duration of the canvass. A deputy United States marshal is on guard in the board room. Watching with him are Attorney J. J. McDonald, for the Democratic county central committee; Charles Wade Snook, attorney for the Republicans; and other representatives of both parties.

Adamson Law Conference Causes Talk of Political Expectations

many other phases of the railroad question before it, including State versus Federal regulation. Meeting here today, State commissioners from all parts of the country thrashed over this question. For the most part, the State commissioners are inclined to resist the movement toward strengthening federal authority over railroads, at the expense of lessened State control. Chairman Eyer of the Interstate Commerce Commission in a welcoming speech to the State commissioners, urged closer co-operation between his commission and the State commissions.

LITIGATION IS ACTIVE. CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Litigation over the Adamson eight-hour law is beginning to pile up on court dockets through the Middle West. Within the next few weeks five hundred suits and petitions for injunction will be filed, it is estimated. Each railroad is planning to bring separate action in every State in which it operates.

Attorney General Gregory probably will select some suit and make a test case of it shortly, a prominent railroad counsel said here today, to determine the constitutionality of the law.

Pending such a decision, roads are seeking injunctions against United States district attorneys to restrain them from enforcing the law. In forcing the law, the roads are planning to not only question its constitutionality but also its practicability. One man high in railroad circles here today said such roads were at a loss to adopt a practical way of applying the law.

Following is a partial list of companies having suits or injunction positions pending: Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Union Pacific, Atchafalpa, Topeka and Santa Fe, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Chicago Great Western, Chicago, Burlington and Northern, Chicago and North Western, Chicago and Great Western, Chicago, Burlington and Northern, Chicago and North Western, Chicago and Great Western.

Sandstorm Causes Havoc in South

ONTARIO, Nov. 14.—The terrific sandstorm which raged all night over the open country east of here literally swept the whole region with a tidal wave of sand, causing one death, injury to two, stalled fifty automobiles and covered railroad tracks for miles under sand and pebbles.

P. L. Murphy, section foreman, attempted to clear the Southern Pacific tracks. He was apparently struck by a train. His body was found badly crushed and nearly buried. F. M. Green of Ontario and E. A. Kendall of Pomona were injured in an automobile crash. Both drivers were blinded by the sand. One buggy and a small automobile were overturned. Garage men and local police officers were out all night rescuing travelers. Traffic on all highways in this section of the valley is tied up. Miles of automobile highway is under two feet of sand.

Heavy loss to fruit crops is expected to result from the storm. The wind was blowing less severely today, but sand continued to pile up in drifts.

Some sections resembled eastern winter scenes, so heavily had the sand piled on house-tops.

The bride gave her age as twenty and the bridegroom as twenty-four. The latter is a graduate of the '14 class of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the University of California.

LAME DUCKS SEE LITTLE BUT GLOOM

President Will Make Few New Appointments, According to Word.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—President Wilson cancelled the Tuesday cabinet meeting and all other engagements today so he could dispose of the pile of routine work which has accumulated during the campaign. The executive offices were thronged with visitors. Word has gone out that very few new appointments will be made.

Idaho Elector Loses Chance to Qualify

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 14.—Because James E. Pincock, one of the four Democratic presidential electors chosen in Idaho, was also a candidate for the State Legislature from Custer county and was elected, Idaho's electoral vote instead of being four for President Wilson is likely to stand three for Wilson and one for Hughes. The law disqualifies any presidential elector who is also the holder of a state position, and Pincock's eligibility will probably be put to the test, say political leaders here. It is disquieting the highest Republican elector may cast his vote.

Henry George's Son Called by Death

Railroad Financiers Must Pay to Ride

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Bankers who finance railroads are not entitled to incorporation of the Central California Railroad Commission has advised Nevada man Erb, president of the Ann Arbor Railroad. Erb had asked whether a ruling of the commission in 1913 regarding the issuance of free transportation applied to bankers. The commission held then that it was unlawful for an interstate carrier to issue passes to local attorneys and surgeons who did not devote substantially all their time to the business of the road.

A despatch to Reuters from Malmö, Sweden, says the Swedish steamer Rhea, bound from Malmö for Stockholm with a general cargo, has been seized and taken into a German port. The Caterham was a vessel of 1084 tons net. The Morazan was a vessel of 3486 tons gross.

Puter, a Eureka attorney, is in the extra sessions department of the local superior court, before Judge William Conley, as defendant in a $25,000 damage suit. The suit is being prosecuted by Margaret Hogan, who alleges that Puter killed her mother last spring, when he ran her down in his motor car at Thirty-fourth street and Telegraph avenue.

NEW GAS COMPANY MAY HALT ROW

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Articles of incorporation of the Central California Gas Company, capitalized at $500,000, may mean the end of the troubles surrounding the California Gas Company, the minority stockholders of which are attacking S. S. Forney of San Francisco, the president, objecting to his issuance of another stock issue and otherwise objecting to his method of operating the firm. It is understood that the new firm may seek to purchase the other, thus eliminating the minority stockholders.

Forney and Friends Move to End War in Visalia Concern

Visalia, Nov. 14.—The new company's expressed object is to sell gas to numerous cities about Visalia not now supplied by the present holding company, buying gas from this plant, which, it is said, is too large for the district it serves. The plant at present supplies Visalia, Lindsay, Exeter, Porterville and other cities. The places to be supplied by the new company include Lemoore, Armona, Goshen and Hanford. It is understood that the Hanford Gas and Power Company will be purchased by the new firm.

PLAN TO WELCOME NAVAL BASE BOARD

Experts to Pass on Rival Site Claims Will Arrive December 1.

MARE ISLAND, Nov. 14.—Great interest attaches to the visit of the Naval Base Board, which is due to arrive here Friday, December 1. The board will investigate the claims of San Francisco sites for the proposed Pacific Coast naval base. Mare Island is also making a strong fight to be selected for the proposed aviation base. Attention of the board will be called to the fact that the weather conditions here are ideal for aviation.

Commandant F. M. Bennett has been advised that the Naval Base Board will arrive in San Diego on or about November 24 and has arranged to have the destroyer Paul Jones sent from Mare Island to San Diego next Monday to be placed at the disposal of Rear Admiral James M. Henshaw, U. S. N., and the other members of the board. On board the destroyer, the members of the board will make a close study of the situation on the Pacific seaboard to determine the advisability of establishing submarine and aviation bases, and also for making important changes at Mare Island and Suisun Sound navy yard.

San Diego is a rival of Mare Island for the aviation base. San Pedro and Monterey will also be in the field for the submarine base and it is expected that the naval officers will visit both sites while making their cruise on the Paul Jones.

Before Public; Members to Sell Tickets to Friends of Idea

Thirty-three theaters in Alameda county have co-operated with the local Boy Scout organization for Boy Scout Day, November 23, when funds amounting to last two years will be sought by the directing members of the juvenile organization. Throughout the day members of the city's mothers' clubs, school children, society women, Commercial Club members, fraternal organizations, the Rotary Club, which is acting in the capacity of "father" to the youths' association, and 500 Scouts themselves will sell tickets for admission to the showhouses during the daily performances. The theaters will give a portion of their receipts to the funds.

TO SELL TICKETS.
According to those in charge of the money-raising scheme, 150,000 tickets will be sold. The ticket sales will be under the direction of J. H. Brown and the S. F. Railway Company. A public committee, under the chairmanship of H. L. Beach, will conduct a campaign for the furtherance of the event in street cars, picture slides, display wagons, window cards, prizes and newspaper advertising.

The two-year budget, which must be secured through public approval, formed a problem to directors of the Alameda county Boy Scouts movement, and was solved only when V. O. Lawrence, president of the Rotary Club and of the Boy Scouts in the county, Nicholas Reichardt, treasurer, George Fred Otto, Dr. J. Loran Pease, Charles H. J. Truman, Mr. Fitch, J. H. Russell, L. Moore, L. Gear, L. Aber and A. E. Carter, representing the interests of the Rotary Club.

Six-Cent Loaves Strew Streets

Horse Runs Away and Scatters Valuable
Cargo Afar

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Several hundred loaves of six-cent bread were spread along Pacific street for several blocks today, when a bakery wagon, driven by Edward Mazzucchi, 1677 Eighteenth avenue, suffered in a collision with an automobile fire truck, which caused the frightened horse attached to the wagon to run away, scattering the loaves along and slide 25 feet across the cobblestones. Mazzucchi was picked up in a dazed condition, taken to a corner pharmacy and treated for hand lacerations and body bruises.

The fire struck, answering an alarm from an apartment house, 1610 Leavenworth street, struck the wagon at Pacific and Taylor streets as it rounded a corner. The fire damage was minimal. An overheated furnace in the basement caused the flames.

MANY TO SEEK PLACES ON BENCH

Creation of Two New Judgeships to Cause Lively
Race.

Another bill creating the positions of two additional Superior Court judges in this county will be introduced in the Legislature at its next session, according to the announcement that State Senator Edward J. Tyrrell has made to the Alameda County Bar Association. This is to be a substitute to the bill which Governor Johnson vetoed last year.

The present crowded condition of the local court calendars will continue for months to come, however. The bill cannot be adopted until 30 days after introduction and cannot be signed until 90 days after the close of the Legislature. This means that the two appointments cannot be made before next August.

Many names are already being mentioned in connection with the appointments to the two additional Superior benches. Included in these are Police Judges Mortimer Smith and George Samuels, Justice of the Peace James O. Quinn, District Attorney W. E. L. Hyman, Attorney George Reed, Attorney Lin S. Church and former Superior Judge John D. Murphy of Berkeley.

Recorder's Office Has New High Record

Surpassing the high mark set in the number of instruments recorded in the office of County Recorder G. V. Bacon on October 24, the record of yesterday reached 251 in number, or fifteen more than on the last big day of business. While the average of the general documents has consistently increased during the last year, now and then a special batch of documents raises the daily number. In the present instance seventy-two certificates of tax sales on street assessments were filed by the city of Alameda.

PIONEER BURIED.

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 14.—Funeral services were held here for Daniel Abbott, pioneer of Porterville and a picturesque character of the San Joaquin valley for many years. He was born in Arkansas in 1837, and came to this state by steam with a wagon train from his home state. At the time of his death, he owned extensive properties in this city and district.

EXCHANGE MAKES NEW YEAR'S PLANS

Lavish Festivities Will Be Arranged to Usher in

The plans for the big New Year's Eve celebration in Oakland this year under the auspices of the Merchants' Exchange will be discussed at a preliminary meeting tonight. The program this year is to be the greatest yet given and from now until the big night the committees in charge will be hard at work making the many details. The Merchants' Exchange for years has taken the initiative in this celebration and included in the active workers this year will be many of the new members of the organization, which has met with wonderful success this year.

To insure that the celebration will be all that it planned, the citizens of Oakland will be asked to co-operate and it is probable that all the other civic organizations may combine with Oakland this year in the holding of the celebration. Among the members of the preliminary committee are Harry G. Williams, president of the Merchants' Exchange; Walter W. Smith, Secretary; E. L. Vander Nalton, Charles H. J. Truman, A. Jones, J. C. Downey, Louis Aber and others.

Another important matter to come before the exchange tonight will be the proposed exchange of the Fitchburg Improvement Club, which will make a plea for San Leandro bay as the new naval base.

Four Votes Make Martinez Republican

MARTINEZ, Nov. 14.—With the board of supervisors, County Clerk Jasper H. Wells, Attorney Leo F. Torney, watching for the Democrats, and Attorney A. F. Bray watching for the Republicans, the official count of the election for the county clerk was made today. The result was a Republican victory. Thus far no notable changes have been made and indications are that the official count will be within a few figures, all the way through, practically as announced following the semi-official count Wednesday.

A few additions, or breaks, have been discovered. For instance, a voter of Bay Point voted the prohibition ticket straight and then voted against amendments Nos. 1 and 2.

Five hundred and thirteen people voted on amendment No. 1 and neglected to vote for anything else on the ticket. For the presidency 13,025 were cast; on amendment No. 1 about the same were cast for and against.

Five hundred and twenty-nine people voted for President who did not vote for United States senator; 1461 neglected to vote for congressman; 1345 failed to vote for state senator; 1342 failed to vote for assemblyman.

Contra Costa cast 18,025 votes, or 77 1/2 per cent of the total registration. Martinez remains Republican by just four votes.

The city of Richmond voted dry, but Winchester (Fresno Co.) 1, Richmond voted solidly against, with 48 against No. 1 and 47 against No. 2. Not a vote was cast in favor of the amendments.

Fifteen precincts in the county voted dry or partially dry.

Port Costa gave the most consistent Democratic vote.

Fire Tests Will Be Made by Laboratories

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Fire tests of all kinds of building walls and partitions, which are expected to have an important bearing on all fire-resisting building construction, have been arranged by the United States bureau of standards. They will be carried out with a newly-installed plant in the new laboratories recently constructed at the bureau's headquarters here, which is the most complete and largest plant for such work ever built. Details of the tests, such as types and dimensions of partitions, temperature to which they are to be exposed, time of exposure to fire, the water test to which the heated partitions should be subjected, and other regulations, have been worked out by a committee representing the American Institute of Architects, the American Society for Testing Materials, the National Board of Fire Underwriters, the Associated Metal Lath Manufacturers, the Gypsum Industries Association, the Portland Cement Manufacturers' Association, the Association of American Portland Cement Manufacturers, the Fire Underwriters' Laboratories, the American Concrete Institute, the National Fire Protection Association and the National Lime Manufacturers' Association.

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning liniment bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nervous wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, arranged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.—Advertisement.

MILES OF BENCHES TO BE BUILT

Correspondent at Somme Front
Sees Men in Active Service.

FRENCH FRONT, Nov. 14.—Tense excitement, but no flurry, reigned along any sector of the French front just before an assault is to be delivered. The men stand to arms coolly as though they were going on to the parade ground. They look to be braced for their rifles, load their magazines, loosen their bayonets in their scabbards, fix the straps of their steel helmets or tighten their belts. Some of them sit down with their backs supported by the side of the trench, writing what may be their last messages to their relatives while waiting for the word to "go over." There is no hesitation when this comes. The men, with every confidence in their leaders, their nerves and muscles taut, clamber out and spring forward and in the recent offensive have always achieved the objective set them by their commanders. The Associated Press correspondent had an opportunity to be in the midst of one of those movements of preparation at a certain point of the Somme line somewhere south of the Somme at a time when the Allied offensive was pushing forward with great vigor.

USE GREAT WIRE.
In the sector visited by the Associated Press correspondent, the French and German first line trenches are separated by a distance of from 200 to 300 yards. Between are wild barbed wire entanglements, erected at night time after the French had driven the Germans from a village and a wood by surprise. With modern arms, the covering of such a distance across open ground by attacking infantry would mean a terrible casualty list. The French, however, were determined to advance.

To do so they excavated with great rapidity trenches zigzagging forward some 60 to 80 yards, where they were joined up by a parallel trench known as the "wild barbed wire" trench. This running still further out was cut leading toward the German lines and these were occupied by listening patrols and machine guns. The covering of such a distance across open ground by attacking infantry would mean a terrible casualty list. The French, however, were determined to advance.

Up these the companies chosen for the assault were to spring on the signal for the capture and spread out in open formation, dashing forward in sections toward the German works, previously almost impregnable to existence by the French artillery.

The sector was not at all "healthy" when the correspondents visited it. German aeroplanes cruised about overhead evidently scenting that something was about to take place. Their activities were not to the liking of the infantrymen below, who, while not impressed by the dangers of artillery and machine gun fire, objected strongly to the appearance on the scene of these aerial intruders.

Artillery fire had been started by the Germans to prevent the arrival of French reinforcements, but its effect on the French troops was almost nil.

VOID OF CAUTION.

The French general commanding the division, who had been in the front only recently for brilliant service on the Somme, had spoken with the correspondents before their departure for the front lines. They had invaded his post of command on a particularly lively sector of the French line for the time. The general occupied a dugout excavated for a German battalion commander, who has remained in possession for the better part of two years. A wide dugout, 100 yards of which guarded it from shell or ordinary caliber and it was fitted up in a style which assured a considerable degree of comfort to its inmates. This caused the general to excuse himself to the correspondents, who, he thought, might draw comparisons with his quarters and those of the soldiers. He said: "If I had had this hole for myself, it would in all probability have meant my being put on the retired list."

As the correspondents left the general remarked: "You may go wherever you like, but I cannot guarantee you immunity from shells or torpedoes. I wish you good luck. See that you come back here and have tea with me."

Shells ranging from two-inch pom-poms to 15-inch howitzers fell intermittently all round at the time. A well-kept, wide and deep communication trench with a floor of earth in most places trodden hard by thousands of feet led towards the front line some 100 yards away. The trench was a maze of twistings and turnings, and it was not until the officer appointed as guide, however, decided that for some distance at least it would be comparatively safe for the party to proceed across the open that the slight breeze which had been hindering the Germans feeling distinctly any movements in the French lines.

This success, however, did not last long. The Germans began to fall with greater frequency and it was decided to adopt the more prudent course of entering the communication trench. A couple of miles' march in Indian file led through a destroyed village constantly under fire and across a field of mine craters. The march became more intense and it was necessary to crouch low to the ground to avoid the splinters of bursting shells.

In this way the front line was reached. The majors in command of the two battalions holding the advanced positions to themselves came out of their dugouts to act as guides and led the way to the parallel of assault from which it was intended to start the attack from the allied line. Only a few yards were in front of the line when the others all having taken shelter in their "funkholes" while the artillery was firing heavily, must advance. The French trench mortars kept constant watch and reported to a telephone operator nearby the results of the French artillery fire. Just at the moment the French trench mortars were busy and their great missiles weighing 500 pounds could be watched during their entire slow flight and the moment they fell directly in the German trenches one fell directly in the German trenches some 200 yards from where the correspondents were standing. The explosion indicated that at least great material damage was being done.

In the interval the correspondents were advised on account of the break-down of the firing to take refuge in the dugout. While there they could hear much more plainly than in the open the terrible bombardment by several hundred batteries then in progress in preparation for an attack by the British north of the Somme, the earth seemingly acting as a more effective conductor than the air. It was afterward learned when the party returned under cover of the general's quarters that the German front line had taken 1000 prisoners and had made a further advance.

Burglar Routed by Woman's Attack

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Awakened during the early Monday morning hours by a burglar, who had entered the John W. McNear home, 1230 Washington street, through the window of her room, Mrs. Anita Belle Castleton of Santa Rosa, a guest of the McNeers, screamed and grappled with the intruder, scratching him about the face and causing him to retreat through the front door. Before his encounter with the plucky society woman the burglar succeeded in ransacking the apartment and loading jewelry and clothing into a suitcase. The articles are valued at several hundred dollars. Mrs. Castleton's husband, a well-known Santa Rosa resident, was awakened by the noise and rushed to the burglar. Mrs. Castleton says that he was 28 years of age, short, stocky and swarthy.

Gambling Charegs Made Against Three

MARTINEZ, Nov. 14.—District Attorney Thomas D. Johnston issued three complaints today against alleged violators of gambling laws and operating slot machines. A complaint was made against John S. Smith, a man by the name of Peters, and one other, all of Crockett, while a complaint was issued against Ed Le Gall and John Cabral of Redon. The last two are charged with having a slot machine in their place of business.

Petition Congress to Prevent Coal Shortage

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 14.—Resolutions calling upon President Wilson to urge Congress to place an embargo on all foodstuffs leaving the country and petitioning the Interstate Commerce Commission "to take the necessary steps to have the coal situation investigated and parties responsible for the shortage brought to justice" were adopted by the Columbus city council last night.

The resolutions were adopted after councilmen had charged that there seemed to be a collusion among coal operators to force a coal car shortage.

REALTY MEN PLAN NOVEL FESTIVITIES

Delegates to Convention to Be Entertained With Special Features; Auto Ride and Big Banquet Items on Program

Committees Perfecting Various Details for Reception of Visitors From All Parts of State; "Stunts" Promised for Affair

Plans for the entertainment of the 500 delegates to the annual convention of the State Realty Federation, which will be held in Oakland for three days, beginning next Thursday, are being made by the committees in charge. The big entertainment feature of the opening day will be the automobile sight-seeing trip, more than 100 automobiles to be used in showing the visitors about the east bay cities. Oakland has made wonderful strides in the past year as a manufacturing center and this district as well as the beautiful residence sections will be shown.

Fred T. Wood is chairman of the automobile committee and with his fellow committeemen, who are Fred G. Becker, George H. Mason, S. H. Masters, C. C. Horton, J. Carl Seiberger, Arthur E. Mitchell, J. M. Sallinger, W. J. White and Dennis Seavies, is working hard for the success of this feature. The cavalcade of automobiles will leave from the Hotel Oakland, the route to be as follows:

From Hotel Oakland, past Oakland auditorium, out Fourth avenue to Skyline boulevard, to Greek Theater, then to North Berkeley, return down College avenue to Broadway, past Technical High School, to Piedmont hills, down Mandana boulevard, past Lakewood Park, around Lakeside Park, to Twentieth and Broadway, down Broadway to Twelfth street to Hotel Oakland. Just before the machines leave the Hotel Oakland, Harry Wilkie will sing from the balcony of the hotel, "My City, Oakland." At Berkeley the delegates will be welcomed by Mayor Irving, who will make an address and Wilkie will sing "I Love You, California."

Another big entertainment feature of the convention will be the banquet to be held at the Hotel Oakland on the closing night. The arrangements are in charge of E. B. Bull and are being made on an elaborate scale. The names of the speakers will be announced in a few days. The "stunts" will be kept a secret until the night of the feast.

KERN ESCAPES.

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 14.—No damage was sustained by citrus fruit and other crops in Kern county as the result of the frost this morning. The minimum temperature here was 28 degrees.

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

If Cross, Bilious, Sick, Feverish, or Full of Cold, Take No Chances.

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Children love this "fruit laxative" and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, their little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, does not eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers alive "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company," Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.

For Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Here in America there is much suffering from catarrh and head noises. American people would do well to consider the method employed by the English to cure this insidious disease. Everyone knows how damp the English climate is and how dampness affects those suffering from catarrh and head noises as a constitutional disease and use an internal remedy for it that is really very efficacious.

Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick tell how they had their hearing restored by this English treatment, to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven and eight inches away from their ear.

Therefore, if you know someone who is troubled with catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises, put out this formula and hand it to them and you will have the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. This prescription can be easily prepared at home for about 75c and is made as follows:

From your druggist obtain 1 oz. of Eucalypti (Double Strength), about 7c worth. Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a ounce of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

Eucalypti is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it effects are usually remarkably quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves from this distressing disease.—Osgood Bros. can supply you.—Advertisement.

EARLY CLOSING LAWS ARE PASSED

Drastic Regulation of Shops in London Is to Go Into Force.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The latest drastic act for government control of business in the interest of war efficiency is the law passed by parliament for early closing of shops. All shopkeepers, great and small, must shut their places of business at 8 o'clock, except on Saturday nights, when they may keep open until 9. The first proposal was for even earlier closing, but the bill was amended to grant an extra hour for five days of the week, by changing 7 to 8.

The chief object aimed at is economy of heating and lighting, which of course means economy of coal. One of the great assets of Great Britain during the war is its revenue from the exportation of coal, and moreover, its allies need all they can get. Like every other war measure, however, this act excites opposition and creates complications, although the people as a whole will accept it cheerfully as they have other inconveniences.

The small shopkeepers who live at the heart of business are the ones who find most objection. One ground of criticism is that the public houses are still to be opened until half past nine. "Why should men and women be allowed to gather in drinking places and buy beer, if they cannot loaf in a cigar store and buy cigars, and gossip with the clerk?" is one of the questions asked. Places where meals are served may remain open, but only for the purpose of giving meals.

Some of the complications concern places of amusement. "The theaters and music halls must not sell cigars and confectories after 8 o'clock," the English say the small shopkeepers. "That would be class legislation, and unfair competition." Smokers who are up late, hereafter, must have tobacco in their pockets or go without.

Mayo Men Will Be Hosts at Big Dance

The Irish societies of the bay cities are taking interest in the plans for the Irish reunion and ball to be held next Saturday night under the auspices of the Mayo Men's Association in Majestic Hall, Fillmore and Geary streets, San Francisco. A program of Gaelic entertainment has been arranged.

The Mayo Men's Association is made up of the largest and most influential Irish organizations in America, and is noted in California for its annual Irish reunions.

Among the well-known "Mayo Men" who are assisting Chairman T. J. Quinn of the arrangements committee toward making the reunion and the banner Irish social event of the winter season are: Supervisors John O. Walsh, Andrew J. Gallagher and John L. Hyman, Superior Judge Franklin A. Griffin, Public Administrator William J. Hynes, Patrick J. Roddy, Emmet Kane, Thomas J. Jordan, John J. Heenan, Michael J. V. P. Brannick, Martin P. Gallagher, J. J. Johnston, P. O'Boyle, P. Donnelly, J. M. Rattigan, J. P. Brannick, J. P. Ferriek and T. Boylan.

The committee of "Irish Colleagues" assisting the Mayo Men includes: Mesdames A. J. Gallagher, M. J. L. Cannon and J. D. Hynes and the Misses Della Cannon, Beatrice Cafferly, Katherine Farrell, Mollie Traynor and Mary Judge.

Oldfield's Nephew Is Immune to Mischap

Whether or not he inherited some of the luck in not being injured by automobiles, of his uncle Barney Oldfield, "Jack" Boyle, six-year-old son of School Director Harry Boyle, last night when a heavy delivery truck ran him down and passed over him.

He was lying from a street car with his mother at Seventy-third avenue and East Fourteenth street and attempted to reach the sidewalk in front of an approaching delivery truck. He was too late and was struck down and run over by the big machine. Jack was picked up unconscious by his mother, but was soon brought round. An examination by a physician showed the boy had not been injured.

TO AID SETTLERS TO OBTAIN TITLE

Surveyor-General Offers Solution of Problem of "Lieu Lands."

Surveyor General W. S. Kingsbury has returned to Sacramento from Washington, D. C., where he has been for several months working for the passage of legislation by Congress to make it possible for hundreds of state applicants and settlers on land in California to obtain clear title to their land, which involves about 200,000 acres of land and paid $22,750 in satisfaction of an excess of school land erroneously conveyed to the state by the United States.

The department of the Interior thereupon revoked the order suspending the conveying of land in selected areas by the state in lieu of unsatisfied losses to the school land grant and directed the conveyance to the state of 95,000 acres, thus perfecting the title of the purchasers of the land from the state of California.

Kingsbury will secure title for the purchasers and it will not be necessary for them to take any action in relation thereto unless they are called upon by the surveyor general to perfect some minor detail in their application.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Vilhjalmur Stefansson does not intend to leave the Arctic region until 1918 and plans to leave via Greenland and Hudson Bay. This is the news brought today from the Stefansson base camp at Bankland by Captain Pederson, just returned with the power schooner Herman from a trading trip for local furs.

Pederson left supplies at the explorer's camp. Stefansson's plans now call for a year more in the north than he had originally planned. Pederson says Stefansson's men are confident the copper finds their chief discovered are the richest ever known.

Cowboys and Indians Lead Funeral Cortège

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 14.—Six mounted cowboys, leading a riders' horse, a dozen Indian braves and squaws and a hundred or more settlers from the Kern mountains led the funeral cortège of Charles Cudeback, reputed to be the best rider and guide in the Kern region, who was killed near the Tehachapi Saturday. Cudeback was the scion of a wealthy family of pioneers.

Internal Bathing's Rapid Growth

It is but natural to expect that a relief from constipation and the many ills which it causes, which is so effective and so natural as internal bathing, should quickly make many converts.

But its general use has increased so tremendously in the past few years that it is no longer a novelty. It is found in the statement of users that they feel as if "made over new" the morning after an internal bath.

The elimination of an internal bath, a waste which is ever present in the lower intestine gives Nature a chance to clear-headed, able, bright, confident and eager for the day's duties.

"Dear Doctor—Your 'Cascade' made a new man of me at the age of 46. I persuaded my wife to use the treatment also, and today she has better health than ever before. Since the use of the 'Cascade' she sleeps better and can walk for hours without fatigue. I am a different man, a condition of the past, can eat anything on the bill of fare and drink all beverages. Does not take cold when exposed, hot weather does not cause oppression."

U. S. Imports Record Tonnage of Beet Seed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Importation of sugar beet seeds into the United States in the nine months ended with September of 18,500,000 pounds broke all previous records, according to a department of commerce statement today. This exceeded by more than a million pounds imports in the calendar year 1913-1914 and were almost twice as much as in the full year 1912.

Russia is now the chief source of supply, whereas prior to the war Germany held the bulk of the trade. Total imports of sugar beet seeds in the fiscal year ended June 30 were 9,042,490 pounds, of which Russia furnished 5,881,946 pounds.

Vallejo Lawyer Has Escape From Death

VALLEJO, Nov. 14.—Attorney Francis C. Melnick of this city had a narrow escape from death in Suisun slough at midnight last Saturday night while on his way to a hunting preserve, where he was to enjoy a shoot. In company with two friends Melnick left Suisun in his motor boat. The gasoline tank on the launch exploded and the young lawyer had his hair and eyebrows burned off. The three men were compelled to jump overboard and swim about 75 feet to the bank of the slough, losing their guns and hunting equipment. The launch was burned to the water's edge, nothing being spared except the engine, which can be recovered.

The three men were soaked to the skin and thoroughly chilled, but are not expected to suffer any ill effects from their experience.

GERMANS NO LONGER FEAR ON SOMME

Crisis Ended Belief Expressed by Those Who Have Borne Brunt of Tremendous Blows Delivered by Allied Armies

Assertion Made That Attackers Can Advance No Farther Because Massed Attacks Are Frustrated by Artillery Fire

PRINCE RUPTRECHT'S HEADQUARTERS ON THE WESTERN FRONT, via Berlin and Sayville, Nov. 14.—Germany believes the Somme crisis has passed. The belief is based on the unshakable and unanimous opinion of the men who have borne the hammering allied blows that the entente allies can never break through these lines of steel and cement, above and below ground.

Furthermore, it is pointed out that success in pushing the German lines out of France and Belgium would make the occupied sections of those countries a shambles—a man's land—made such by French, British and Belgian guns.

The confident belief that the allied offensive is wearing itself out is held in the face of statements by British prisoners that the month of November will be one of surprises. The result of the great allied offensive was decided in July, German officers have declared, when the combined French and British artillery and the English tanks failed to break the German lines in their daring initial dash.

OPINION OF OFFICER. Here is the opinion of a captain at General von Clause's headquarters, an officer who interviews all prisoners, reads all documents found on battlefields; whose business also is the study of strategy, and who spent a number of years in England and France.

The allied offensive was decided last June, despite the fact that it has been kept up for four months longer. They cannot progress further, because battles today are decided by artillery, not infantry. Massed attacks cannot gain what they did at the beginning.

We have almost as much artillery now as the French and when we shortly shall have as much ammunition they can make no more progress. At some places the French have fifty guns on a 150-yard line, on an eight-mile line they have 1000 guns.

But one must remember that this country is worth ten times more to the French or British than to us, for it is the Frenchman's home.

FRANCE'S TRAGEDY. The French realize this more than the English. The French destroy only what military necessity requires. The English destroy everything with their artillery.

Here on the Somme is France's greatest tragedy, for if the allies expect to recapture the entire occupied territory in this fashion they will make French and Belgian territory a no-man's land.

The immediate objective of the Franco-British offensive was to reach Bapaume and Peronne through a break in our lines. They feared this would cause our withdrawal, and they were right. No matter how deep their wedge we will not withdraw—and we will have Bapaume and Peronne.

The impression here is that Hindenburg will force such a price from the allies that they cannot pay it.

BY YOUNG MEN. The battle of the Somme is being fought by young men. Fifty per cent of the English and French prisoners are between 19 and 30. Most of the Germans are of the same age. Two companies were practicing hand-grenade throwing, for all the world like so many pitchers warming up.

Another company was playing in the part pleases are playing in this great series of battles. They are proved invaluable, especially when artillery destroys telephonic communications with hidden German guns. There are eighty of them in a line on the Somme. They are helping out at the same time as the defenders. As soon as wire communications are cut they are sent back to artillery stations with bulletins telling where the enemy is approaching, when cavalry is seen and where tanks are lumbering toward the lines. Within a few minutes artillery fire is poured.

BEAUTY DOCTOR TELLS SECRET

Detroit Beauty Doctor Gives Simple Recipe to Darken Gray Hair and Promote Its Growth.

Miss Alice Whitney, a well-known beauty doctor of Detroit, Mich., recently gave out the following statement: "Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair, promote its growth and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Boko Compound and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is also fine to promote the growth of the hair and relieve itching and dandruff."—Advertisement.

British Eat Teutons' Breakfast Attack on Ancres Big Surprise

(Copyright, 1916, by the Associated Press.) WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Nov. 13, via London, Nov. 14.—The Germans were apparently completely surprised by the unexpected attack in the valley of the Ancres. An evidence of this was found in the fact that the garrison of the trenches around Beaumont-Hamel were preparing for breakfast at the very moment when the British infantry stormed the position. The British after partially clearing the underground galleries and rounding up 700 prisoners, proceeded to eat their prisoners' breakfast, telling the captives that they would be fed when they arrived within the British lines.

A total of nearly 4000 prisoners has so far been sent to the cages, including a regimental commander, who was captured in a dugout with a major, an adjutant and a number of other officers. The majority of the prisoners are silent and, according to the British officers, very inferior fighting material. The German higher command depended apparently on the supposedly impregnable character of the old front line and its strongly fortified villages rather than on the strength of the troops. The British officers believe that the Germans withdrew their best men for service elsewhere on the British front, where the new and shallower positions to which the defenders have been forced demand greater readiness of power on the part of the infantry.

TELEPHONIC BOMBARDMENT. The British have been unusually light on the telephone. The result of the great allied offensive was decided in July, German officers have declared, when the combined French and British artillery and the English tanks failed to break the German lines in their daring initial dash.

Argument Closes IN 'SLAVE' CASES

'Mere Immorality' Not Banned by Mann Act, Court Is Told.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Contending that the Mann white slave act does not apply to cases of "mere immorality," former Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas today summed up for the defense in the appeal of Maury I. Diggs and F. Edward Campetti of San Francisco and L. T. Hayes of Alva, Oklahoma, in the supreme court.

Arguments in the cases were expected to be concluded late today. Assistant Attorney-General Wallace, for the government, argued the Mann act applies to "any interstate immorality." Bailey differed sharply on the question of "immorality."

Commercial immorality, or perversion only, are covered in the Mann act, Bailey argued. Bailey argued that the law never intended to make it possible to send a man to prison for five years and to fine a man who has merely made a mistake, to paint his name forever and outlaw him, all because he crossed a state line with a willing woman.

There is a tendency, Bailey argued, in modern criminal law, toward harshness. He said:

I reject the doctrine that I must keep my brother from doing whatever he wants to do. A man may lapse and still be honorable. If this were not true, we should have to blot some of the brightest names in our history from its pages.

To enforce the law too harshly would bring it into disrepute. Bailey declared a harsh interpretation of the Mann act would be the prosecution of a young man "because he entertained a young woman whose morals were gone long before he met her." It would put in the same class, he said, "the miserable wretch who profits by the bodies of women and the young man who merely makes a mistake."

Hayes insisted the Mann law was intended merely to regulate the white slave traffic.

LITTLE CHANGE IN DOBRUDJA REGION

Rumanians in Rotetum Pass District Have Been Forced Back.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 14.—For the first time since General Sakharoff's Russo-Rumanians began their smashing blows against Mackensen's extreme left wing, which rested at Ceretavoda, on the Danube, in the Dobrudja region, the front line has reported the situation "unchanged."

"In the Transylvania region," said the statement, "enemy attacks were repelled. The Dobrudja situation remains unchanged."

Rumanian forces defending the district about Rotetum pass have been forced back under persistent enemy attacks in the Alt river region, the war office announced today. Tanton attacks in the Jul valley resulted in the capture of the village of Humesbshi, the statement said.

EAT IT! ENJOY IT! NO INDIGESTION OR BAD STOMACH

Never Any Sour, Gassy or Acid Stomach, Heartburn or Dyspepsia.

"Pape's Diapensin" Makes Weak Stomachs Strong and Healthy at Once.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of indigestion, acidity or dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach if you will take a little Diapensin occasionally.

Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes belching, distention, fullness after eating, nausea, indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), biliousness, heartburn, water brash, pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.

Headaches, if the stomach is absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapensin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. A single dose will digest all the food you eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour or upset the stomach.

Get a large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapensin from your druggist and start taking now, and in a little while you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other medicine.

Should you at this moment be suffering from indigestion or any stomach disorder, you can get relief within five minutes.—Advertisement.

ARMY TO RAISE BRAZIL TO RISE

South American Poet Head of Latest "Preparedness" Move of Republic.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 14.—"Preparedness," as the theory, is no longer open to discussion in Brazil. The big southern republic has gone in for "militarism," and she has gone in with enthusiasm.

Compulsory military service, established by a law passed by the congress of 1908, goes into effect December 1, 1917, and if the results approach the predictions of the law's sponsors a million Brazilian men will be trained in arms and maneuvers within the next ten years. All able bodied men between the ages of 21 and 44 years are subject to the call to arms. When called, they must join the colors or be liable to punishment as deserters.

By a scheme of short time service advanced to those who wish to escape the two years' service in the active army, however, the greater part of Brazil's army probably will be composed of "volunteers." More than fifty thousand volunteers enlisted for the short service year, and it is probable that between 37 and 44 into the third line and its reserve or the national guard. After nine years in the active army the men are retired to the reserve.

The volunteers are classified according to how they wish to serve, for the two years' service, for the annual maneuvers and training camp, or for training in schools and in shooting clubs under the instruction of army officers. The two latter classes must continue their training until such times as they are able to pass an army requirement's examination. Those who train in third class are not compelled to leave their business or occupation as they are permitted to work on Sundays, holidays and out of work hours.

COLLEGES ACTIVE. Hundreds of colleges, schools, athletic clubs and other organizations of men are taking advantage of the third class volunteer rights and are training under the instruction of officers furnished by the minister of war in these schools, clubs and organizations.

Other young men are volunteering for the annual maneuvers and training camp, the two months a year being credited against their compulsory service, and at the same time taking the place of "vacations."

The two years' straight active army service is being sought by the young men between the ages of 17 (if they have their parents' or guardian's consent) and 21, as a matter of "having it over with."

The naval reserve will be recruited along the same lines—by volunteers and by compulsory service. The officers and enlisted men of the navy are being trained by regular naval officers and besides must undergo a training course in the naval reserve, each year. The volunteers for the naval reserve enjoy the same privileges as those in the army.

Perhaps the strangest feature of Brazil's adoption of the compulsory service lies in the fact that the man who is chiefly responsible for the propaganda that resulted in the law's enactment is Sr. Olavo Bilac, Brazil's greatest living poet. Besides being the greatest poet, Olavo Bilac is the greatest patriot and his campaign was fought with a double purpose—his country's defense and his country's education. Eighty per cent of Brazil's population is illiterate. To raise the military requirements ex-soldiers, the volunteers or "drawn" soldier must be able to read and write. Thus Olavo Bilac benefited his country by obtaining "compulsory and volunteer education."

BRAZILIANS PATRIOTIC. The average Brazilian is intensely patriotic if one may judge from external. Every man takes off his hat when the national anthem is being played or sung and he leaps to his feet to do it. He puts his hat to his country's flag and he honors the men who defended his record of the past in his country's service. A proud record and the wars of Brazil's history are epics of heroism and sacrifice.

"Progress and Order" is the motto printed in gold on Brazil's flag. In ten years a million men will be giving the military salute to "Progress and Order" and will be trained to defend its principles. In that time Brazil in proportion to its population probably will be among the best in the best "prepared" American nation.

POLICE TO "CIVILIZE" S. F. Harbor District. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The San Francisco waterfront, in other days a region of romance, shaggy sailors and loud roars of mirth, has sunk to the level of mediocrity. It is the scene of a police station and a police station is the scene of civilization and out from the encircling embrace of story telling atmosphere. It is to be just like any other city district with the gas lamps turned on.

This morning, Captain Matheson issued an order which excludes extreme vitality everywhere along the district's line of saloons. In the future, policemen, speakeasies and the like will have the privilege of entering any public building in the district to arrest a man under suspicion of being drunk. Suspicion of drunkenness will be enough for an arrest. This means that drunken men of the maritime trade will have to stand more soberly than the district's habitués and keep out of alterations with hard fisted bartenders while policemen are near.

Mrs. Mayer, who was born in San Francisco, was decorated simultaneously with the wives of General Von Mackensen, who is leading the Bulgar-Turko-German forces on the Dobruja front in Rumania, and General von Falkenhayn, former chief of staff. CHILD TESTIFIES
ON JUDGE'S KNEE

Youngster, Brought Into Court,
Offers Pivotal Evidence.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—Dramatic almost as the footlights in effect, was the scene enacted in Superior Judge Grant Jackson's courtroom yesterday when the judge, unable to determine the truth as between the stories told by Thomas S. Adams, master of the Yale school on North Union avenue, and his divorced wife, Mrs. Kathleen Adams, called their six-year-old, golden-haired girl to the bench, took her on his knee, brushed back the locks from her face and relied on her childish frankness for verity.

Mrs. Adams was haled before the judge on an order of court to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt for failing to comply with a court order following the separation several years ago, that she should not go near her husband's school or interfere with his business. The couple had fought a divorce, but the decree was denied at that time.

DENIES CHARGE. The woman vigorously denied that she had written numerous letters to the parents of her former husband's pupils, and the two stories told the court relative to her returning several days ago and insisting that Mr. Adams furnish her and their child food and shelter differed in material respects.

During the hearing the judge had the little girl brought to him. The child sat on the judge's knee, which the court unhesitatingly accepted.

Then, turning to Mrs. Adams, who sat in the witness chair, told her that if she was brought into court again she would send her to jail and take her daughter away from her.

Adams, through his attorney, complained to the court that his wife, who he alleged was severely wretched, had alleged he was pushed to the floor and a few months later was assaulted by Adams. Their child was born before their marriage on May 25, 1911, she declared.

During the course of her testimony yesterday Mrs. Adams repeated the story which was made public some years ago and created a sensation. She went to work in the school as a matron, she said, and a few months later was assaulted by Adams. Their child was born before their marriage on May 25, 1911, she declared.

Two Held on Murder
Suspicion, Are Freed

STOCKTON, Nov. 14.—John Powers and his wife, roving campers, who have been at the county jail here since July on suspicion of having murdered Frank Greer, a farmer, were released from custody and the charges against them were dismissed upon motion of Assistant District Attorney C. P. Benson.

Benson stated that he asked the dismissal because all of the prosecution's witnesses had disappeared.

The body of Greer was found in Whiskey slough, near Holt, and a negro who informed officers that Greer had been seen with Powers was found floating in the same stream a few days later.

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be made at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. Pour slowly on scalp and massage briskly. This creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After a canthrox shampoo arranging the hair is a pleasure.—Advertisement.

COMPOSER TRIES
SONGS ON PUBLIC

Sings Them From Stage to See
"Whether They'll Go."

Why does a man with a contract with a leading music publishing firm of America to write twelve songs a year for ten years at $10,000 per annum, and who is in addition drawing princely royalties from 150 published songs already sold by the many-dollared, much-abused operatic spirit, Emilie Kahn, local agent for the English underwriting concern, mailed all of the papers concerning the care to his home office, thus taking from California to the Zepelin-thrashed Thames all documents called for by the declining factors.

Although the ghost itself has taken its route to England through the mailbags, it leaves behind it hard feeling and the cold breath of charge and counter-charge. There is a real difference of opinion between the original management and the underwriters' representatives over the amount of insurance due the rain-blighted opera. The insurance men say $11,843, while the original "Aida" management claims $25,000.

The difference arises over advance receipts from many sources which the opera management secured and which were not turned over to Lloyd's management when that concern took over the performance following the rainstorm. Advance expenses made known by expert accountants amount to $35,557.17, of which $18,192.22 have been paid. This leaves $17,364.95 still unpaid.

"I do it," he says, "in order to keep up the pace set for me by the public when they accepted 'Aida' and the 'World Is Mine.' In the Garden of My Heart, 'Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold' and some 150 other songs I have written. I find my vaudeville work of the greatest help in song writing. When I write a new song, I try it out at some vaudeville matinee. Believe me, I can tell in three minutes whether or not the new composition is destined to be a success."

"While I, myself, may naturally think that the child of my brain may have some merit, if a vaudeville audience does not like it, that settles it. I consider a vaudeville audience the best jury in the world on the merits of new songs. The verdict is final. So you see there is method in my apparent madness."

And in the meantime, vaudeville audiences throughout this country and Canada welcome Kahn's appearance in public with a heartiness and an enthusiastic applause that is a splendid recompense for any discomforts that attend the life of the modern wandering minstrel.

Braves Submarines to Visit Children Here

Braving submarines and the other wartime dangers of the ocean, Mrs. Marjory Rodger of Broughty Ferry, Scotland, has arrived here on a visit to her daughter, Miss Ellie I. Rodger, of San Francisco, her son, James B. Rodger, Berkeley, and John W. Rodger, Oakland, and brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Fyfe, Berkeley. Mrs. Rodger, who is the wife of John A. Rodger, a prominent business man of Broughty Ferry, came across the Atlantic on the Anchor line steamer California. Rough weather made the voyage rather unpleasant, but no submarines were encountered. Her son James went to meet her at New York.

One of her sons, Thomas R. Rodger, of the Black Watch, is recovering from wounds in a hospital in England. Douglas Rodger, another son, who went through the Gallipoli campaign in the Fifth and Forster Yeomanry, and who was one of fifty-six survivors out of 700 men, is now on the Egyptian front.

Youth Is Arrested
After Murder Probe

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 14.—King Dutra, 28 years old, of a prominent Yuba county family, was arrested at his cabin near Dobbins, in connection with the investigation into the supposed murder of a miner, December 13, 1915, of C. E. Patterson, a miner of Gold Lake.

The arrest was made on a telegraphed warrant from James F. Hunt, district attorney of Sierra county, who is in Los Angeles. It charged felony without naming the specific crime. When Sheriff Sayles served it young Dutra said:

I know what you want me for. You want me for that murder. I never even saw the man.

Patterson disappeared December 13. Blood stains were found in his barn at Gold Lake. He is believed to have been murdered, but no trace of his body has been found.

Mrs. Mary Patterson, wife of the missing man, is under arrest in Los Angeles pending investigation.

San Francisco Man
Is Sent to Prison

IRISBO, Nov. 14.—N. B. Converse, a San Francisco inventor, pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of attempting to attack his 14-year-old daughter, and was sentenced to two years in San Quentin by Superior Judge Church. Converse, tried ten months ago for criminal assault, was found guilty by a jury of attempted assault and sentenced by Judge Conley of Madera county, who presided at the trial, to fifteen years in prison. A new trial was granted by the supreme court.

Mrs. Converse, when she learned of the accusation against her husband, shot herself, but she recovered. Converse at one time wealthy, invented a rainfall stabilizer. He is now in reduced circumstances.

Brooklyn Church
to Receive Funds

The improvement fund being raised for the rehabilitation of Brooklyn Presbyterian church of East Oakland will benefit by a musical to be given this evening under the direction of Mrs. Winifred Wilson-Footman, soprano, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Williams, 1920 Tenth avenue.

Members of the church Ladies' Aid Society, who are raising a fund for the installation of an indirect lighting system in the church building, will have charge of the arrangements for the evening. Mrs. Wilson-Footman will render several selections.

DIVER DRIVEN OFF. NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Nov. 14.—Members of the crew of a British steamer, Strathmore, which was engaged yesterday, said their vessel had engaged a German submarine in the Mediterranean October 24. After the submarine had begun shelling the merchantman, it was said, she opened fire with a small gun and escaped unharmful. Captain Barnett of the Strathmore declined to confirm or deny the story.

Just Try This When
Hairy Growths Appear

(Models of Today)

A smooth, hairless skin always follows the use of a paste made by mixing some water with plain powdered delatone. This paste is applied to the hairy surface two or three minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain or discomfort attends the use of the delatone paste, but caution should be exercised to be sure that you get real delatone.—Advertisement.

"Aida" Documents Go to Lloyds, London

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The ghost of "Aida" crawled out of San Francisco some time this morning and soon Lloyds in London will be haunted by the many-dollared, much-abused operatic spirit, Emilie Kahn, local agent for the English underwriting concern, mailed all of the papers concerning the care to his home office, thus taking from California to the Zepelin-thrashed Thames all documents called for by the declining factors.

Although the ghost itself has taken its route to England through the mailbags, it leaves behind it hard feeling and the cold breath of charge and counter-charge. There is a real difference of opinion between the original management and the underwriters' representatives over the amount of insurance due the rain-blighted opera. The insurance men say $11,843, while the original "Aida" management claims $25,000.

The difference arises over advance receipts from many sources which the opera management secured and which were not turned over to Lloyd's management when that concern took over the performance following the rainstorm. Advance expenses made known by expert accountants amount to $35,557.17, of which $18,192.22 have been paid. This leaves $17,364.95 still unpaid.

Samoans Resist
Increased Cost

Pago Pago Boycotts S.
F.-Sent Goods

PAGO PAGO, Samoa, Nov. 14.—Owing to the high prices prevailing on the island of Tutuila for foodstuffs imported from San Francisco, Samoans here have resolved to boycott their traders in those articles and already several people have been punished by native chiefs for purchasing salmon from a trader in Pago Pago.

Merchants have canceled outstanding orders owing to the action of the people. They are awaiting interference on the part of the island government.

A law enacted by a former governor of American Samoa forbids the chiefs to punish their people except through the native magistrates, appointed by the governor, but this law recently has appeared to be a dead letter.

Sulzer Has Lead of 52 Votes in Alaska

JUNEAU, Nov. 14.—Carefully revised returns from all of the four judicial divisions of Alaska, with only twenty-four precincts missing, give Charles Sulzer, Democrat, a lead of 52 votes over Delegate James Wickersham, Independent Republican, for re-election. Delegate Wickersham's campaign managers contend that the unreported precincts will give Wickersham a plurality or so cut down Sulzer's lead that the official canvass will be necessary to determine the result.

Territorial Attorney General John H. Cobb, who sought re-election as an Independent, but was defeated by George H. Grigsby, Democrat, resigned today. Governor J. F. A. Strong immediately appointed Grigsby, who is on his way here from Nome, to fill Cobb's unexpired term.

HAUL COST REDUCED. WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Cost of hauling produce to and from the farms of the country is reduced as much as 25 cents per ton-mile by good roads, according to calculations of experts of the department of agriculture.

BET SEASON IS NEARING CLOSE
Large Crops Are Shipped From This County to Spreckels Works.
PLEASANTON, Nov. 14.—With shipments that have advanced to a number of more than 500 cars, during the season of 1916, the beet industry of the Pleasanton district will come to its close on Saturday.
This territory opened to the shipment of beets to the Spreckels sugar factory on September 25. Practically all shipments made in previous seasons have been to the Alameda Sugar Company, Alameda.

Son and Heir Is Only 'Burglar'
BERKELEY, Nov. 14.—It's a wise father who knows his own son's handiwork, so declares E. T. Houston of 237 Baker street. It's a wise father who keeps his front door locked. So adds Frank B. Houston of 1000 Sierra street. Both undertakes to prove it by the following circumstances:
E. T. Houston and family returned to find their home entered and thoroughly ransacked from front to back after an absence yesterday evening. Boxes drawers had been taken out, shelves unloaded, cupboards emptied, and the contents of all of them left upon the floor. No valuables were missing.
Houston immediately informed the police who responded in numbers and minutes inspected the wreckage. The more they inspected the less could they discover characteristic traces of a professional burglar. They advised Houston to demand explanations of his friends.

SMUDGE POTS SAVE FRUIT FROM FROST
Cold Wave Hits Two Valleys and Temperature Drops to 18 at Paso Robles and 36 Here. With Crops in Danger
No Peril in Alameda County With Prevailing Winds, But Winter Snap Is Forerunner of Season's Rigors in the State
No damage has been done by frosts in Oakland and vicinity nor will there be any with the thermometer and the barometer standing as they have for the last twenty-four hours. At Chabot Observatory last night the thermometer reached its lowest at 36 degrees. The high of the preceding night abated yesterday and this morning was not so strong. So long as the wind prevails there will be no danger of frosts.
Throughout the state, however, reports of damaging frosts are general. Last night the temperature in San Francisco went to 44 degrees, according to the thermometer on the roof of the Merchants' Exchange building. Nearer the ground and elsewhere in the city the thermometer fell several degrees lower. The low record for the city is 38 degrees.
WAVE FROM NORTH.
The cold wave that swept out of the north and gripped the mountain and Middle Western States struck California early in the morning. Killing frosts were reported early today in several parts of the rich San Joaquin Valley fruit section and even as far south as the citrus districts the weather was exceedingly cold. Orange and lemon growers were out nearly all night burning smudges to prevent the fruit from being nipped.
In many sections of the San Joaquin Valley the temperatures were icy. Stockton had 25 degrees, Fresno 24 and Paso Robles 18. A high but warm wind swept the Sacramento valley and kept the temperature from getting below 30. The weather bureau today predicted that there would be no important rise in temperature and declared that killing frosts would be general in California throughout today, but not so severe.

Says Simple Remedy Prolonged His Life

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Effective as a Remedy for Constipation.
Among older people the various organs of the body have a tendency to slow up and weaken, and this is usually first manifest in a pronounced inactivity of the bowels.
Good health is dependent on regularity in this important function; whenever there is the slightest indication of constipation a mild laxative should be taken to relieve the congestion and dispose of the accumulated waste. Cathartics or purgatives should not be employed, however; these are too violent in action and their effect is only temporary.
A mild laxative such as the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is the ideal remedy. It is gentle in its action, bringing relief in an easy, natural manner, without griping or other pain or discomfort, is pleasant to the taste, and can be obtained in any drug store.
Mr. Robert LeForgee, 815 Kirkwood Boulevard, Davenport, Iowa, says he has always had a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the house for the past eighteen years, and that by using it occasionally as the

SPRING TO SELL VAST HOLDINGS

Berkeley Millionaire Plans to Release His Historic Properties to Corporation of Purchasers Seeking Big Deal

Transaction Will Reach $1,000,000 if Closed; Arrangements Are Now Being Made to Negotiate the Transfer

BERKELEY, Nov. 14.—Once more the stretch of territory to the north of Berkeley, which one time bore the romantic name of the Indian Burying Ground, promises to change hands. Held now by John Spring, the Thousand Oaks millionaire, and allied interests, it will become the property of a holding corporation which is in process of organization. The deal has not been closed, but is still being tentatively discussed. It is expected to be some weeks before a final decision is to be made as to whether it will go through.

The property will unfold in Thousand Oaks and surrounding tracts amounts to a little more than 500 acres and is valued at upwards of $1,000,000. When Spring took over the tracts five years ago the unsold property included more than 700 acres, valued at two and a half million. Sales in it have been constant from that time to this so that less than half remains on the market.

VARIED HISTORY.

The property has had a varied history. In prehistoric time it was overrun by aboriginal Indians and several sites have been found where their rough-hewn cooking instruments and arrow-heads were imbedded in the earth and others still which they probably used as places of burial. Subsequently the broad acres were a part of the Perilla, grant of the Spanish government to an early family of settlers. Later still the lands were a grazing place for cattle and after that they were taken over for agricultural purposes by the Pacific Investment Company. So they came down to their present owner, John Spring, who has improved and cut them up into building lots.

The properties in which Spring and George Friend, his son-in-law, are now interested are in the hands of three companies, the Thousand Oaks Company, the Thousand Oaks Land Company and the Regents' Park Land Company. The proposed new corporation to which Spring will turn over these interests, if it is formed, is planned to involve some thirty capitalists of the east bay region and Los Angeles. Among these are Senator Arthur H. Breda, R. N. Burgess and others of Oakland, and Robert Marsh of Los Angeles.

NOT CLOSED.

George Friend today pointed out several inaccuracies in current reports regarding the proposed deal. He denied that the property involves 700 acres or that he has been approached with a proposition to become manager of the holding company if it is formed. He has not definitely decided upon his plans, nor Spring upon his, if the deal is made through Spring has interest in Tacoma, to which city he may remove and whither Friend may accompany him.

The properties involved were a portion of the settlement upon which John Spring and Mrs. Spring made at the time of the recent securing of her involuntary decree of divorce on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Spring returned a year ago from Hawaii to find in the newspapers an account of her husband's intention of marrying Mrs. Genevieve Ecker. She found also that Spring had transferred his palatial home in Arlington Heights and much of the other property involved in the present deal to the Regents' Park Company. She immediately instituted a suit which almost as suddenly was dropped, and the differences of husband and wife remained in the courts off and on until the divorce was secured by her and a final financial settlement consummated.

ASSESSMENT IS PAID.

An ordinance appropriating $264,138 to cover the city's assessment for the improvement of Fallon street, between Tenth and Twelfth streets, was passed to print this morning by the City Council. This work provides a new asphalt roadway for the westerly approach to the Municipal Auditorium.

BUYS BOLIVIA CLOTH COAT AND FOX FUR BOTH IN ONE DAY

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Blank went shopping. She wanted—and needed—a winter coat and a fur scarf. She found one of them, but couldn't decide which one to get now and which to put off until the first of the year.

She looked at coats at many stores, seeing dozens of styles which pleased and yet did not entirely satisfy her. Incidentally, she discovered that coats this season are higher priced than they've been for years—and that the money in her purse wasn't enough to buy the kind she really wanted.

What did she do? Go home discouraged, disappointed and miserable? No, indeed! She didn't go home until dinner time, and when she did finally board the homeward car, she was anything but unhappy. You see, she spent the time in-between at CHERY'S CREDIT SHOP.

There she purchased one of the richest and most distinctive Bolivia Cloth Coats to be found anywhere, in just the shade she wanted and just the style. More than that she bought a wonderfully beautiful Fox Fur. On each of them Mrs. Blank made only a moderate deposit, but she's wearing her coat and fur today, and will wear them all the time she's paying for them. A few dollars each week will make her paying easy.

The same Credit System is at your disposal at any of the following stores: Women's store at 515 Thirteenth street. The men's shop is at 328 Thirteenth street. San Francisco stores are at 2400 Mission street, corner Twentieth, and at 1000 Market street, just above Sixth. Also Tacoma, Portland, Los Angeles and Sacramento.—Advertisement.

BROOKS CLUB OF CITY ORGANIZED

Judge Gibson, President of the Group, to Urge Talent of Poet.

Organization of the Fred Emerson Brooks club of Oakland has been completed with the election of officers at a meeting held in the Thompson building by enthusiasts over the California poet's work. Similar clubs have been formed in Alameda, Berkeley, Richmond, San Leandro, San Rafael, San Jose, San Francisco and El Cerrito during the past few weeks, their purpose being to secure what they believe proper recognition for the bard and an acceptance by state authorities of his poem "California" as the official verse.

Brooks will leave for a tour of the United States and will recite his works on California throughout the lyceum circuit, aided by several California singers who will voice in song what Brooks gives through the spoken word. The officers of the local organization are as follows:

President, Judge E. M. Gibson; vice-presidents, H. C. Ingram, L. R. Goodrich and Rev. Father Dee; secretary, Harry W. Hartman; treasurer, Charles H. J. Truman; directors, J. Stitt Wilson, George W. Reed, May E. V. Woodward, J. H. H. Shattuck, with Messdames Henry Wetherbee and J. de P. Teller were chosen as directors.

Chief of Police to Seek Missing Gate

When Chief of Police Walter J. Peterson, who is convalescing from a severe attack of the grippe, appeared for a short time in his office this morning to cast an eye over the business of his department, he found a task awaiting him. He must find, either in person or through the aid of his patrolmen, the garden gate which has been missing since October 31. The City Council has instructed him to do so without delay.

The action of the council was taken in response to the demand and ultimatum of Alfred Matrat, a gardener, who lives at 321 Kansas street. In a communication he advised the commissioners of the fact that Matrat's practical joke had removed the swinging portal and secreted it in some place unknown. He said that he had made a thorough search of the neighborhood and could find no trace of the gate.

"This gate cost me $15," he wrote, "and I demand that the city of Oakland reimburse me for the loss or find the gate." On the motion of Commissioner W. H. Edwards, the Chief of Police was instructed to locate the missing portion of the fence which guards the front approach to Matrat's domicile.

Accused Burglar Is Held for Trial

Walter Harris, who was arrested three weeks ago in Piedmont by C. E. A. Hitchcock, of the Piedmont patrol service, and confessed to four burglaries in Oakland and Alameda, was held to answer before the Superior Court this morning by Police Judge George Samuels on $2000 bail. At the time of his arrest Harris gave the name of Walter Percy Sexton and he had also used the alias of Elmer P. Sexton. His true name, according to the police, is Elmer Harvey.

Harris is alleged to have committed the following burglaries: John H. Hendry, 200 Alhambra avenue; R. P. Jones, 1237 Sherman street, Alameda; D. J. Fields, 211 Paru street, Alameda; J. W. Robinson, 216 Paru street,

FATE'S IRONY IN DIVORCE SUIT

Husband's Absence and Silence Wins Him Court's Judgment.

An ironical fate victimized pretty Anne Poston Goodchild in her fight for a divorce from Frederick Goodchild, wealthy English banker, for the husband was granted the decree on testimony given by the wife in her attempt to have the decree awarded to her. Superior Judge T. W. Harris ruled yesterday afternoon that Mrs. Goodchild had not proven her charges of cruelty against her spouse, but that she herself had proven that she had deserted him, whereupon he was entitled to the decree.

It was a short hearing. Mrs. Goodchild and her mother, Mrs. Helen Poston, appeared, and were the only witnesses. M. J. Rutherford, attorney for Goodchild, had been in vain for a further continuance of the case. He pleaded that his client was in London, unable to leave England because of the war. Counsel Moore, attorney for Mrs. Goodchild, protested that enough continuances had been granted, and Judge E. J. Brown agreed with him. He ordered the trial to proceed and transferred the cause to Judge Harris' court.

On the stand Mrs. Goodchild, after telling of the three years of globe-trotting which she and her husband engaged in after their wedding in Oakland in 1912, testified that she had on one occasion, and on another had told her he would place her in an insane asylum if she tried to go away from him. This happened in Mazatlan, Mexico, she said, where her husband was in charge of a large banking establishment. Mrs. Poston corroborated these statements, having been on a visit to her daughter and son-in-law at the time of their alleged utterances.

Mrs. Goodchild, who is in her twenties, said her husband, who is 38 years old, had a habit of "nagging" her. Continual fault-finding, she said, made life with him unbearable. When she had completed her testimony, Rutherford cross-questioned her.

"Did you leave your husband?" he asked.

"In January, 1915," she replied.

"Has he not since asked you to return to him?" the attorney asked.

"Yes," admitted Mrs. Goodchild.

Whereupon Rutherford turned to the court and asked that his client be awarded the decree on the plaintiff's own testimony of desertion. Rutherford had taken the precaution when ordered to go to trial to have his client's statement, which had entered a cross-complaint alleging desertion. It was on this verbal agreement that Goodchild won the day. Goodchild, Rutherford said, would have carried the case into the higher courts had the lower tribunal granted the divorce to Mrs. Goodchild.

CROSS COMPLAINT.

No testimony was brought out in support of Goodchild's cross complaint allegations that his wife had humiliated him by smoking in public, that she had refused to wear her wedding or engagement rings and that she had been too friendly with Captain Newton A. McCully and Paymaster William Merritt of the United States Navy.

Goodchild, however, in mute protest at the accusation of having humiliated her spouse through her public smoking displayed a costly gold cigarette case and a rich onyx and gold cigarette holder which she said he had given her as gifts.

Secret Fund Subscribed for Jewish Orphanage

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—A new Jewish orphanage will be built in San Francisco at an early date, according to plans of a group of wealthy Hebrews, who have already raised $300,000 of the necessary $500,000 in entire secrecy. The campaign for securing the necessary funds has been carried on with utmost quietness and even the subscribers to the fund have asked that their names be not made public.

According to plans of the workers in charge of the project a modern orphanage will be constructed. The familiar large dormitory type of building will be eliminated and the cottage system, worked with the greatest success in other communities, will be given a thorough trial in the local institution. Smaller buildings in large number will divide the children into living groups, giving the atmosphere of a real home to them.

Selection of a site is now occupying the attention of those interested in the project. Several are under consideration, including the fourteen-acre site of the Jewish Old People's Home in the Mission and an entirely new site in the suburbs of this city.

Upon the filing of this financial statement, the Council passed an ordinance appropriating from the entertainment fund the sum of $1250 to be expended under the direction of Mayor John L. Dwyer, the city's contribution to the cause.

The budget included the following items: Banquet, $750; steamer excursion, $225; registration bureau, badges, souvenirs, etc., $250; automobile excursion, $50; placards, $35; publicity bureau, $350; postage and mailing, $30; grand total, $2857.50. The board also included $175 for theater party, $172.50; office help, $125.

Indoor Life Makes Fat

TRY OIL OF KOREIN TO KEEP WEIGHT DOWN, OR TO REDUCE SUPERFLUOUS FAT.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precautions to guard against over-stoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality, and the formation of unhealthily and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. No person who is afflicted in their own mind that they are too stout are advised to go to Drug Dept. K&N, 2424 Broadway, San Francisco, and get a box of oil of korein capsules, and take one or two with their meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy; footsteps become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance. Oil of korein is inexpensive, safe, pure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds in weight should take this treatment a trial.—Advertisement.

Man Converted Confesses Murder

New York Gangster Has Heart Change

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Nov. 14.—As the result of his conversion at a religious meeting last night, Andrew J. Daniels told the police today he was a member of a gang that killed Policeman Thomas Russell in New York during a street fight five years ago. He is held pending advice from New York City. The gang is alleged to have operated in West Twenty-second street. Daniels said he was unable to say whether a shot from his revolver killed Russell, or whether the officer fell at the hands of other members of the gang. He told of the killing to ease his conscience and clear up the murder, Daniels declared.

SHIPBUILDING TO LAST YEARS

Pacific Coast Yards to Reap Profit From Program of Construction.

That the recent shipbuilding boom in Pacific Coast yards as well as on the Atlantic will be maintained for the next few years with constantly increased activity is the opinion of marine engineers who base their conclusions upon the fact that since the war began the total world's tonnage has decreased from 50,000,000 to 32,000,000 tons.

Captain Robert Dollar of San Francisco has stated that in the last fifteen years the shipyards of the world built about 2,500,000 tons of ships a year. Basing his estimates on that figure he calculates that it will take at least ten years to restore the lost tonnage.

At the present time there are more than 1,500,000 tons of vessels under contract in American shipyards, a goodly amount of this tonnage under contract in Oakland, San Francisco and Puget Sound ports. Only lack of steel and equipment prevents contracts for hundreds of more vessels being let, according to the Marine Engineering.

The United States had, when the war broke out, the largest fleet of ships in the world. Another half million tons having been added by transfers since. In addition to the merchant fleet constructed since the war, the navy has called for an expenditure of $50,000,000 for warships.

BRITISH LOSSES BIG.

Great Britain alone has lost through destruction 2,734,106 tons, or more than 10 per cent of her total of 21,045,049 tons when the war began. Damage has been about one-tenth of her total mercantile tonnage, or 309,023 tons. Germany has lost over 600,000 tons.

Others of the allies and neutrals have lost enough during the war to bring the total up to about 5,000,000 tons. But in addition to the direct loss of this enormous amount of tonnage now lying on the bottom of the ocean marine engineers figure that the deterioration of nearly 5,000,000 tons of Teutonic vessels now interned runs from 15 to 20 per cent a year.

The third factor to which marine engineers ascribe the tremendous swelling of the world's merchant marine is the commandeering of the largest and best freight and passenger steamers for war purposes. Great Britain and other belligerents for war purposes.

FLEET COMMANDEERED. Altogether there have been commandeered by the belligerents 12,000,000 tons of the best and largest vessels. It is estimated that these ships are being used so hard for military purposes that few of them will be worth much except for scrap when the war is over.

City Manager Scouts Threats of Recall

SAN JOSE, Nov. 14.—When questioned concerning a letter from Hiram A. Blanchard, threatening recall proceedings in the event of Chief of Police Benjamin M. Fuller is removed, City Manager Thomas H. Reed said that he should not allow such matters to influence his conduct in the least. Reed said:

"Any action that I take in any department of this city will be taken from what I consider the best interests of the city. I will not be deflected from my course by mere criticism."

Elmer E. Chase, president of the city council, said:

"As far as Blanchard is concerned, he is not a resident of San Jose. I do not think that there is much to his recall talk. However, anyone has a right to start a recall if they desire."

FOURTH WIFE, SHE SAYS, IN CHARGES

"She May Be From Country, But She's Not Green," Says Defendant.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 14.—"She may be from the country, but she is not green," which the philosophical remark made by Henry H. Burgess, aged 60 years, when arrested here on a bigamy complaint sworn to by Mrs. Josie A. Bolin, who says that when he married her in Los Angeles last February, he already had three other living wives.

Three of the four knots tied in the Burgess matrimonial line, according to Mrs. Burgess, last January after Burgess had spent an apparently happy 25 years with Mrs. Annie Burgess of St. Paul, Minn.

Leaving this woman, according to the complaining witness against him in the bigamy charge, Burgess traveled over the country under several assumed names and is alleged to have married Mrs. Lillie Beck Mull in Omaha, Neb., in 1910. She now lives in La Grande, Oregon.

Number three was Mrs. Effie Murray of Minnesota, who is said to have married Burgess, alias Hall, in Santa Ana on March 23 last. Henry H. Hall is the cognomen assumed by the aged Don Juan when he met and won wives Nos. 2 and 3, says Mrs. Burgess No. 4.

"He said he was longshore, but he wanted my money," she said today in relating her experience with Burgess. "I met him for the first time last February," said Mrs. Bolin, "in Pacific Park," this city, while shopping at the public market. He asked me in conversation and we met frequently. His engaging ways and apparent frankness in telling me of his business affairs, and his ardent wooing, extending over a period of two weeks, led to our marriage. He took place in Los Angeles. According to Mrs. Bolin, Burgess' too evident desire to get hold of her property, consisting of an extensive real estate near Port North, Texas, and her bank account, early aroused her suspicions, and these were increased by several months ago at the residence of Mrs. Bolin, resulted, according to the latter, in the disclosures she has recounted.

Burgess was arrested by local detectives while boarding a Los Angeles car. He denies that he had defrauded any woman or that he had other wives than the complaining witness living.

DOMINICANS HOLD HIGH CELEBRATION

Seventh Centenary of Famous Catholic Order Is Observed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Celebration of the seventh centenary of the Dominican Order, known as the Order of Preachers of the Catholic church, began here today with a pontifical high mass attended by the three American cardinals—Gibbons of Baltimore, who was the celebrant; Farley, of New York, and O'Connell of Boston—and many prominent Catholic laymen from throughout the United States.

The celebration, which is being observed all over the world, marks the seven hundredth anniversary of the confirmation of the order by the church, approval having been given by Pope Honorius III in 1216. The order was founded in 1213 by Saint Dominic Guzman, a Spanish nobleman of Calagor and its members have always been recognized as the leaders in study and exposition of Catholic theology.

In the United States, where the order has been established more than one hundred years, the central celebration is being held in the Dominican house of studies here. This, the first day, was dedicated to America's princes of the church, the three cardinals, all of whom were in the sanctuary when cardinal Gibbons celebrated pontifical high mass.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES. Private funeral arrangements have been made for the burial of Mrs. Mary A. Moran, who died suddenly at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. H. E. Skinner, 845 Fifty-sixth street. Mrs. Moran had lived in California fifty-one years, coming here from Massachusetts, her native state. She was 77 years old and is survived by five daughters, Mrs. H. E. Skinner, Mrs. T. E. Cole, Mrs. Ray Barnes, Mrs. A. T. Baker and Mrs. A. G. Buffington.

DISASTROUS FIRE SWEEPS YOLO TOWN

Davis Is Almost Wiped Out When Wind-Driven Flames Attack Business Section; No Fire Brigade Is Organized

DAVIS, Nov. 14.—Left but a gaunt specter of itself by the fire which wiped out the central business section of the town at a loss estimated at $100,000, Davis today set about rebuilding from the cocoon of tradition and rebuilding along more modern lines. Gangs of men are at work bringing order out of chaos, and, with the spirit that characterized San Francisco, preparing for rehabilitation.

Davis yesterday morning at dawn was a little hamlet of about 1000 persons, a railroad transfer point and a farm business center. Davis at sunset was a wrecked, littered, smoke-hung scene of desolation, with its streets filled with stunned citizens and its stores gutted from attic to basement. Twelve of its principal places of business paid the toll of the conflagration before the ravages of the flames were checked. That the rest did not burn, with the urging of a high wind, is considered little short of miraculous.

The fire started in a tiny tamale parlor shortly before 10 o'clock. Within a minute the fire, from which the trouble is supposed to have originated, was sending forth sparks over adjoining roofs. A candy store caught, a hardware store roof followed, then Odd Fellows' Hall. Before Davis was fully awake to the situation the main street was a roaring, seething mass of flames, licking with greedy tongues at light frame structures in all directions.

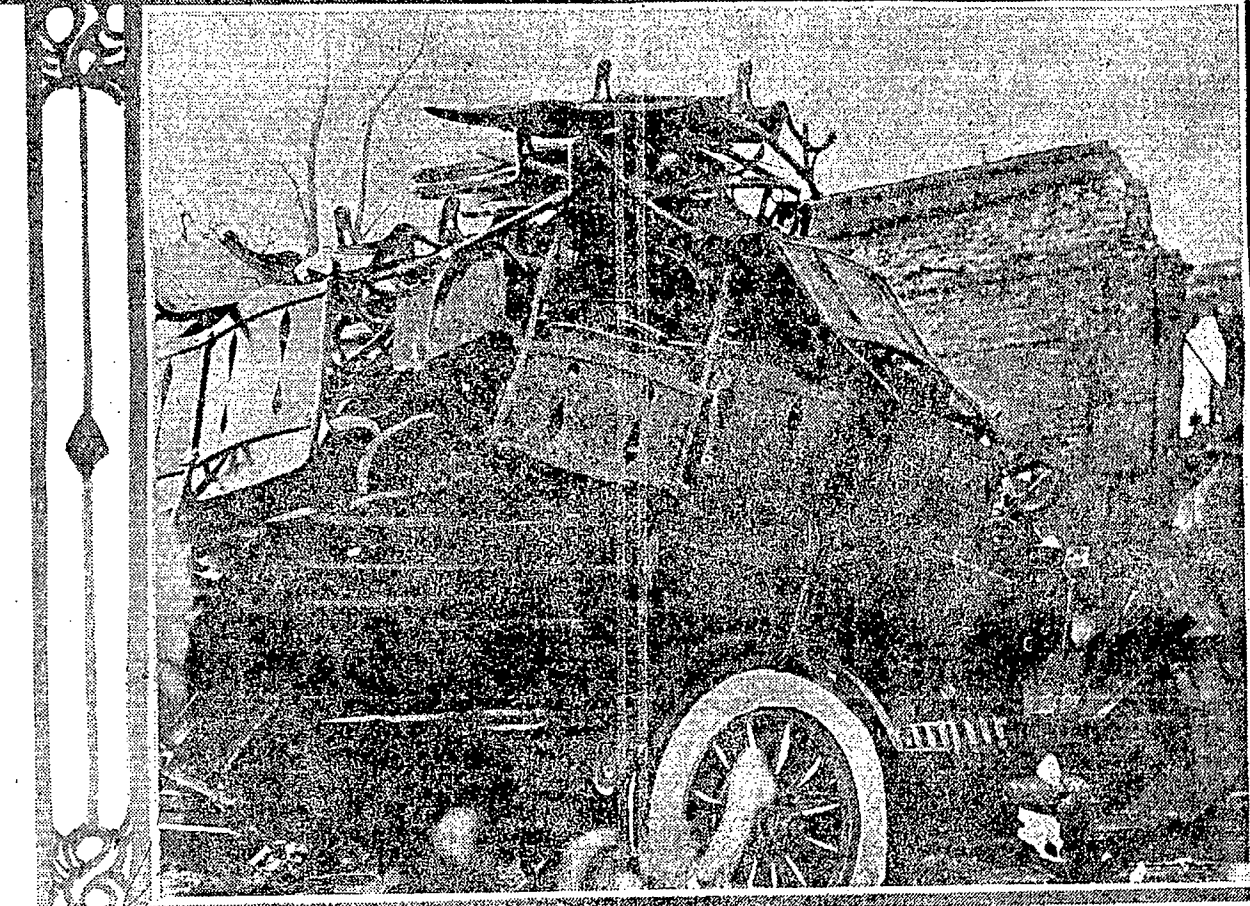

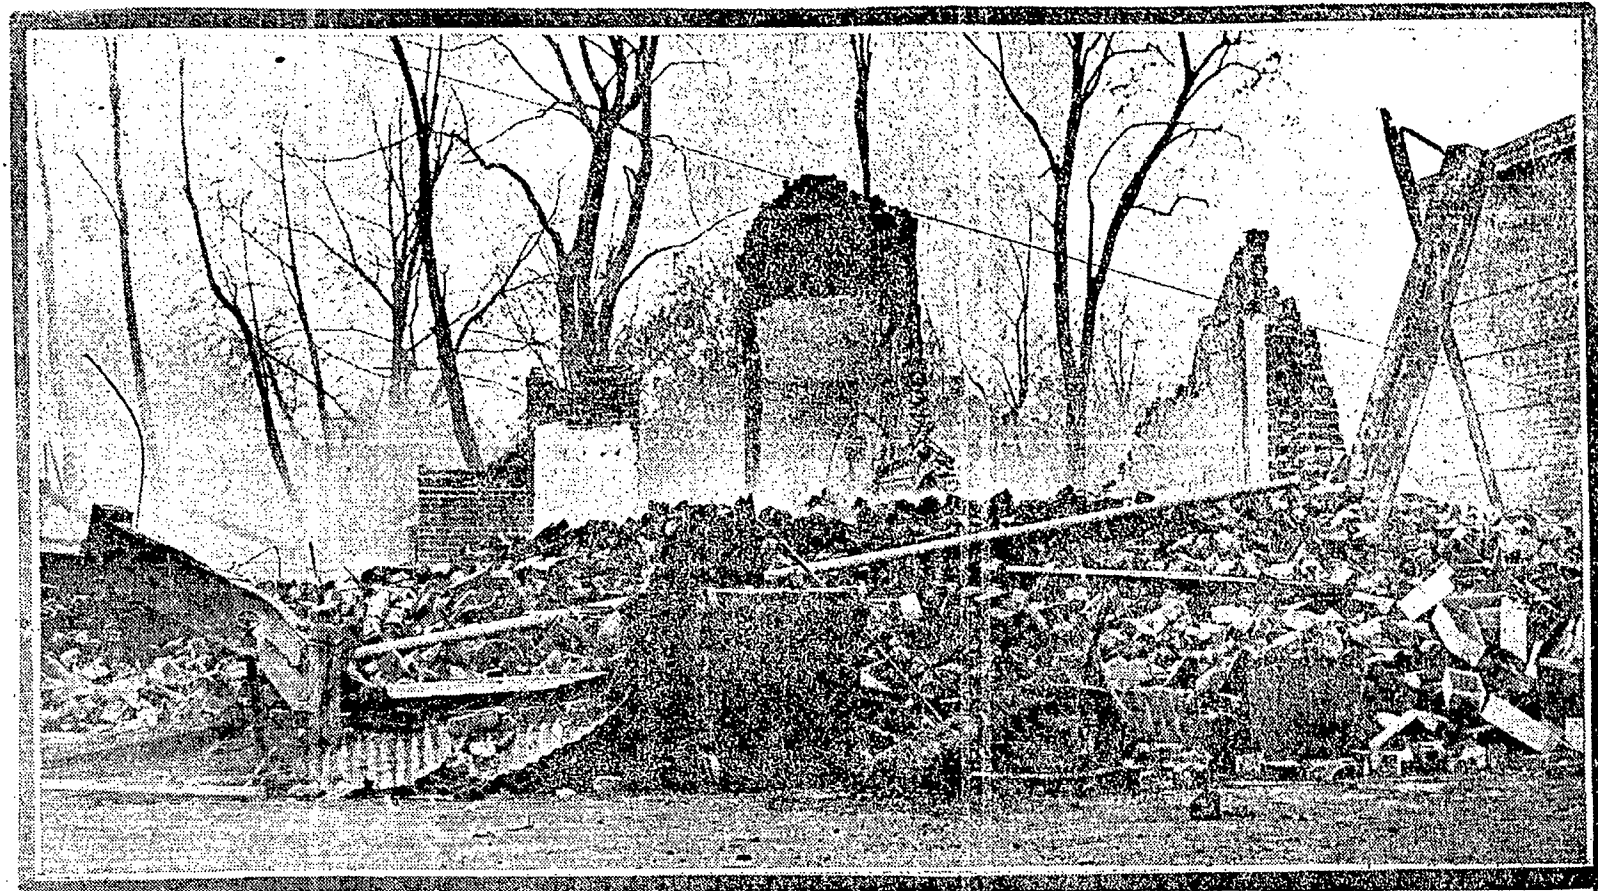

NO FIRE BRIGADE.

No fire alarm was sounded, for a very good reason—there was no fire department. Although the victim of three disastrous fires within two years, the townspeople had not yet learned their lesson and not even a bucket brigade had been organized to hold back the fire which rapidly destroyed the village. Telephone wires called into requisition—long distance and rural, fence-to-fence and house-to-house lines—and farmers from all over Yolo county began to pour in to aid in the work of saving the town.

aid in the work of saving the town, by automobile, on horseback and on foot.

Sacramento, state capital and sister city, answered the call with three fire companies. Braced against the chill of the morning wind, which bit and clawed at their overcoats, those three companies set forth along the newly completed causeway. By the time they arrived at Davis they had just finished the need for $15,000,000 state highway bonds and broken the Pacific coast record for rapid handling of heavy fire trucks. It is thirteen miles between Sacramento and Davis along that highway. Those rocking, careening trucks made it in seventeen minutes. Their coming saved Davis—that and the roads which made the speed possible. Racing parallel with them were two switch engines from the main shops of the Southern Pacific Company at Sacramento, equipped with fire pumps.

As the rescue parties neared Davis they could see the print of the fire in the sky—a giant smoke mass lunged out against the heavens like a huge El Capitan done in charcoal. As the combined apparatus swung up the main street of Davis and into the roaring cauldron of its business district.

GULF ROUTE EMBARGO IS TO REMAIN

Hope That Old Lower Rate May Be Resumed Killed by New Word Received by Shippers in Oakland and Vicinity

There is little prospect ahead, according to east bay shipping interests, that the embargo on shipments of eastbound overland freight by way of the cheap Galveston route placed by the Southern Pacific Company will be raised for some time.

The embargo covers canned and dried fruit, salmon, wine, barley and other commodities on which the east-bound rate is $8 a ton to New York. It was laid by the railroad company as the result of congestion of cars on the Atlantic seaboard terminals awaiting steamer shipment. At Galveston more than 1100 cars are tied up, while other Eastern cities are in proportion.

LOSS FOUGHT. That the embargo was anticipated some time ago was manifest in a communication received by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce from the State Railroad Commission, in which the commissioners inform shippers and packers that the American Railway Association notified them that there was a shortage of 6100 cars in various parts of the United States. The shortage in California is said to amount to 3250 cars.

The only remedy, according to local shipping men, is to warehouse the freight awaiting steamers and send the cars back. There is little chance of this being done, however, owing to the overcrowded conditions of warehouses all over the country through the shortage of steamers, driven from their regular runs by war conditions. Unless some disposition is made of the foodstuffs and other freight which is being handled on transcontinental lines, serious financial loss may result.

EMBARGO JUSTIFIED. Freight Traffic Manager G. W. Luce of the Southern Pacific Company declared today that the embargo was made necessary through the inability of the company to make delivery of freight to the interior. He said:

With such a congestion at Galveston and Atlantic seaboard points, the question of car-supply would be still further aggravated were we to continue to accept eastbound freight by way of the Gulf route, where the docks are already crowded with freight awaiting an opportunity to be delivered. Were it possible to make cars back on our lines the embargo would not be necessary. Eastbound freight by way of all the rail routes will continue to be accepted, the embargo being confined to freight destined for Atlantic points by way of the Gulf route only.

Baker, for the last year and a half assistant manager of the Hotel Oakland, will sail for the Orient on the steamer Ecuador, Monday, November 20, to become assistant manager of the Grand Hotel at Yokohama. Walter Rounsvell, formerly of the St. Francis Hotel of San Francisco, will succeed Baker at the Hotel Oakland Saturday.

Baker was given a gold watch from the employees of Hotel Oakland, a gold cigarette case set with diamonds from guests of the hotel and from members of the Chamber of Commerce a scarfpin, gold cuff links and a steamer trunk as marks of appreciation.

The rescued trio were playing on the sand at the foot of Sherman street and climbed into a boat which went adrift. The school boys saw the plight of the youngsters and brought boat and human cargo safely ashore, later taking the children home and receiving the thanks of the parents of the trio for their timely rescue work. The boat was rapidly drifting out into the bay when the boys noticed its plight and their action probably averted the drowning of the three children.

Thousands of men and women suffer from headaches every year, other thousands have had headaches every week, and still others have had headaches occasionally. Some have regular intervals. The best Doctor is often unable to find the cause of many of these headaches, and in most other cases, knowing the cause, he does not know what will remove it, so as to give a permanent cure. All he can do is prescribe the usual pain relievers, which give temporary relief, but the headache returns as usual, a treatment is again necessary. If you suffer from headaches, no matter what their nature, take anti-kamnia tablets, and the results will be satisfactory in the highest degree. You can obtain

Co-Eds Spending More Than Youths

College Regents Bring to Light Queer Facts

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 14. — Girl students at the University of Minnesota spend more money than male students. This is shown today from figures compiled by the university. These show that girls pay $115 a year for clothing, money, and the like, and only $24 a year for books. Men pay $62 a year for books, and $144 for food and room. But for miscellaneous expenses and recreation the boys, on the average "goats" for the girls' theater tickets and the like, spend $62 a year while the girls spend $50.

It costs $646 a year to produce a graduated dentist, while a chemist gets by for $369, and an agriculturalist shaker did down for only an average of $441.

GROCERS ON WATCH FOR PRICE DROP

Retail Shops "Buy Short" in Fear of Fall in High Cost, With Wholesale Houses of Nation Waiting for Embargo

Canned Goods and Dried Fruit May Continue to Climb in Common With Other Foodstuffs, But Drop Is Awaited

Retail grocers these days are buying new goods with their ear to the ground. They are intent upon catching any sound wave that has a bearing on the fluctuation of staple commodities, for they have been warned that unless they are careful they will be caught napping and meet with embarrassment, financially in particular.

E. S. Hogan, secretary of the local Retail Grocers' Association, puts the situation this way:

The retail grocer feels that not far in the distance, maybe sooner than generally expected, there is going to be a crash where it is possible that he may be caught with a big stock of high-priced goods on his shelves. We have endeavored to impress upon the retailer that he must become reconciled to paying higher prices and selling higher for the time being; that he must not stock up to any great extent, but be prepared to restock from time to time and take advantage of any decrease in prices wholesale.

If the government places an embargo on staple foodstuffs the bottom is bound to drop out of present inflated prices. There is no telling when this will take place. But if it does, the retail grocer is one in particular who cannot afford to be caught napping.

PRESSURE FELT.
In the meantime most of the foodstuffs which have not hitherto been effected with the general advance are now feeling the effects. Dried fruits and the cheaper grades of canned fruits are being gleaned from the markets. In San Francisco it is reported that buyers from Russia and Canada have during the last few days been going quietly about picking up anything left over in these lines, with the result that such goods have taken an upward trend in prices.

The 6-cent loaf has now become recognized practically throughout the community, with the probability that bread will go even higher.

Among the staples which have shown an advance within the last day or two are included the following:

PRUNES BOOSTED.
Prunes were given a boost on the small sizes. The size 90-100, which means 90 or 100 prunes to the pound, has been raised to 7 cents wholesale. These are the prunes that the working classes buy to the exclusion of the larger prunes.

Tuna canners yesterday issued notice that they will deliver but 30 per cent of the amounts contracted for by wholesalers. Higher prices are anticipated in consequence of the short pack.

Sauerkraut, the kind that comes in the large No. 3 cans, went skyward, the wholesale price going from 55 cents to $1.35 a dozen. Shortage of vinegar and condiments of all sorts was given as the reason. Cans that are now 10 cents at retail will soon be 15 cents in consequence of this raise.

Eastern buyers of beans are exceedingly active. There has been no change in the price of 1 1/2 cents for the small white, with others in proportion. These beans are not only going to the Eastern states, but are being bought heavily for export. The entire crop in producers' hands is reported to be about cleaned up.

CANNED MEATS FIRM.

There is increasing firmness in prices for canned meats. Canned corned beef in one pound tins now cost the grocer $2.95 a dozen; a few months ago the price was $2.50. The days of the 25-cent can at retail are limited to what retail grocers have on hand. The retail price will soon be 30 cents. The two-pound tins have risen to $5.50 a dozen, an advance of 70 cents in a short time. The retail price is going to 55 cents.

Canned lunch tongue has become so costly that retailers are negligent in watching the jumps. It is now $5.10 a dozen at wholesale, in the one-pound tins. It used to be $2.45 a dozen.

Bagley, Santa Rosa, second vice-president; J. W. Ryan, secretary-treasurer. San Francisco, re-elected for the ninth consecutive time.

Peach Crop in State to Reach $3,000,000

FRESNO, Nov. 14. — The peach crop of California for 1916 is estimated at $3,000,000, according to figures just announced by the California Peach Growers' marketing organization, and $2,000,000 has already been paid to the growers by the association.

The business of the association has already exceeded expectations. More than one-half of the 1916 crop has already been sold, and the company officials expect no difficulty in placing the remaining orders at good prices. While the amount of last year's crop, the 1915 crop, under the organization, will bring $1,500,000 more than in 1915.

HUNTERS INJURED.
MARYSVILLE, Nov. 14. — Three duck hunters were wounded, one seriously, when a shotgun placed in a bucket was discharged. E. P. Estes, contractor, was wounded in the chest and left arm; his father, W. W. Estes, had part of one hand blown off, and C. C. Hitchcock, a neighbor, was shot in the left leg.
